This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE

THE precise form which a County Bibliography should take—both as regards its contents and arrangement—is a matter on which there is room for much diversity of opinion. A glance at the Bibliographies compiled for the Counties of Cornwall, Devon, Dorset, Kent, and Norfolk will show how differently such a work may be treated. In order that the scheme which we have adopted may be readily appreciated, we will state briefly what have been the reasons which have guided us in the selection, treatment, and arrangement of the works noticed in these volumes.

Whether these reasons are held to be sufficient or insufficient will depend largely on what is considered to be the main purpose, which a local bibliography is intended to serve. Such a work will generally be consulted by two classes of readers, viz., Students of Local History, and Collectors of Topographical Books; and it is therefore their requirements which should receive most consideration at the hands of the bibliographer. Unfortunately, however, these requirements are by no means identical, and it often happens that the wants of the one class must be subordinated to the wants of the other.

Our primary aim has been to provide the student of Gloucestershire and Bristol history with a ready means of ascertaining all that has been written about these localities, and of knowing whether a particular book is likely to be of service to him before he has examined it.

Our secondary aim has been to supply the Book Collector with an accurate and descriptive catalogue, which will aid him in completing his collection of Gloucestershire and Bristol books, and in ascertaining whether his copies of such books are perfect.

These are the principles which have mainly determined the form of our work.

I. Selection. When we first seriously entertained the idea of compiling a bibliography of literature relating to Gloucestershire and Bristol we found it necessary before entering on our task to define its limits. At the outset it was apparent that if we put as extended an interpretation on "literature" as some County Bibliographers have done, our work would be unduly voluminous. We therefore decided to omit all notices of MSS., Prints and Maps. Printed matter and manuscripts require very different treatment, and there is a hard and fast line between them. Prints and maps, though of much local interest, are not literature in the strict sense of the word.

With these reservations we determined to give to literature a very wide signification, and to make it include not only Books, but also Pamphlets, Chap Books, Broadsides, Newspapers, Parish Magazines, and Reports of Local Institutions. It may be thought by some that literature of this class is hardly deserving of notice. We venture to think that its omission would seriously lessen the value of a local bibliography to the student. Except in a few cases, the existence of printed works, of sufficient size to entitle them to the name of books, is known; and copies of them are generally to be found in public libraries. The student desires to be made acquainted with works that are not generally known or easily procurable. It is this kind of ephemeral literature which so often throws side lights upon history, and which, by a notice in a bibliography, may be rescued from oblivion. In order to lighten the labours of local historians in the future, we have also included in our work Articles in Magazines and Reviews, Papers in the Transactions of Societies, Parliamentary Papers, Orders of County Council, and Acts of Parliament.

Having assigned this definition to literature, we had next to consider what relation works falling within that definition must bear to Gloucestershire or Bristol to entitle them to notice in these volumes. We determined that such relation must be not merely nominal but substantial; i.e., that the contents of the works noticed must have some local reference.

This limitation excludes much that is often described as "local literature." For example, it excludes works on general subjects written by local authors, works from the presses of local printers, and sermons or speeches delivered in a particular locality but having no other reference to it. Such literature throws but little light on County history, and we venture to think that its inclusion in a County bibliography is generally a mistake. But in counties where there have been important presses, as was the case in Oxfordshire, Cambridgeshire and Hertfordshire, exceptions to this rule in favour of early locally printed works might very properly be made.

It remained to consider whether works which only partially fulfilled the necessary condition, e.g., works on general topography or on other general subjects, which contained references to Gloucestershire or Bristol, should be included. We decided that they should when the references they contained to those localities were of a substantive character, and of some length or importance. This course has been adopted by Colonel Fiswick in The Lancashire Library, but not nearly to the same extent as by us.

Having settled these preliminary matters, we were in a position to formulate the following rule, which concisely defines the limits of our work. We determined that our Manual should comprise only Printed matter, the contents of which relate in whole or in part to the County of Gloucester or to any part of it, or to the City of Bristol.

To this rule we have made occasional exceptions. For example, we have included a very few works—such as Barksdale's Nympha Libethris or the Cotswold Muse—the contents of which have no local reference, but the prominence of some local name on the title seemed to demand admittance into a collection of Gloucestershire books.

It was our original intention to include biographies of all who had some title to be considered Gloucestershire men; but we have been compelled with reluctance to abandon it in order that our work might not exceed its present dimensions. The history of a county is so interwoven with the history of its inhabitants that what relates to the one must almost of necessity relate to the other. We have copied the titles of more than 2000 works relating to the lives of inhabitants of Gloucestershire or Bristol. These, together with many original biographical notes, may perhaps be issued at some future day, either as a supplemental volume to this Manual, or as an independent work.

Where there is an obvious and marked connection between works of a biographical character and a particular locality we have noticed them under the head of that locality. For example An English Country Squire as sketched at Hardwicke Court will be found under "Hardwicke"; pedigrees of families, described as of a particular place, we have placed under that place; and literature relating to the Berkeley Law Suits is noticed under "Berkeley."

II. Treatment. The titles of all books and tracts relating exclusively to the County, which would be likely to be included in a collection of topographical books, have been given in extenso, and we have endeavoured to copy them with minute accuracy, even to the reproduction of errors in spelling and punctuation. Quotations on the title, except when very short, have however been omitted, and their omission indicated thus, "[Quot.]." In the titles of such works the only other abbreviations employed are "Pr." for Printed, and "Pub." for Published.

In the case of works noticed only on account of their contents (e.g., Acts of Parliament, Orders of the County Council, etc.) and of works containing references to the County, the titles have been sometimes abbreviated. These abbreviations have been indicated thus . . .

The size of every work noticed has been usually given approximately, as fol., 4to., 8vo., 12mo.; but we have sometimes discriminated between the varieties (e.g., royal, demy, post, etc.) which these terms include. The domicile of the copy of each important or rare work examined has been indicated.

The number of printed pages of every paged book noticed has been given, and the number of leaves of unpaged books. In the case of standard or important works the type in which they are printed has been stated, and the signatures have been given as well as the number of pages. In such cases the preliminary matter has been generally described. In the case of some pamphlets the only description given, besides the size, is the number of pages, e.g. "Pp. 16." When this is so, it may be inferred that the title is included in the pagination. Lists of plates have only been given where no list is found in the work described, except in the case of two or three of our leading county histories.

On works that would be prized by a collector we have aimed at making our notes descriptive. In other cases they will be found to be rather explanatory. We have occasionally given our opinion of the character or value of a work noticed, but generally criticism has been avoided. Whenever the connection of a work with the locality under which it is classed is not evident from the title, an explanatory note has been added. The authorship of anonymous works, when ascertainable, has been stated. We have very rarely been satisfied with information at second hand. Indeed almost every book noticed has been examined by both of us, and the notes made by the one have been checked by the other. In the very few cases where an unseen work has been noticed, it is so stated in our notes, and the source from which the title has been obtained is almost always given.

III. Arrangement. This may be either alphabetical under authors' names (as in the Bibliotheca Cornubiensis, and Bibliotheca Staffordiensis) or local (as in the Bibliotheca Dorsetiensis, and Bibliotheca Cantiana). We venture to think that for almost every reason the latter arrangement is preferable. Those who consult county bibliographies do not generally want to know what has been written by a particular person, but what has been written about a particular place. For this reason our primary classification of works noticed has been under the headings of the localities to which such works refer. We shall however give an index of authors at the end of Vol. iii.

The main headings of our work are:

I. Works relating to the County generally.
II. Works relating to the Forest of Dean.
III. Works relating to the City of Gloucester.
IV. Works relating to particular Towns and Parishes.
V. Works relating to the City of Bristol.

When works relating to any particular locality are very numerous (as is the case with those referring to the County generally, Gloucester, Bristol, and to some of the larger towns) they have been subdivided; but subdivisions have only been resorted to when a particular branch of literature would overshadow the rest. For example, among works under the "County Generally," those relating to "County Administration" have been allotted a class to themselves. Similarly, "Guides" have been separated from other literature relating to Cheltenham; and "Acts of Parliament" and "Periodicals," will often be found under sub-headings.

In Class I. it has been thought best to separate works relating exclusively to the County from those which only contain references to it.

Dated works in each sub-division have been arranged chronologically. We have preferred this to an alphabetical arrangement, which is practically useless until the reader has mastered the system on which it is based. A chronological arrangement has also the advantage of serving to some extent the purpose of an annual register, as it constitutes a record of all events, which gave rise to any literature, in the order of their occurrence.

Undated works have been arranged alphabetically at the end of dated works. Here, and in all sub-divisions where an alphabetical system has been found necessary, the works have been arranged in accordance with the first word, not an article, of their titles. Works of which an approximate date has been ascertained, but which have no date on the title, have been placed among the dated works with a cross-reference under undated works. In such cases the date prefixed to them in the chronological arrangement is enclosed in a bracket.

Periodicals relating to a particular locality, when sufficiently numerous, have been arranged alphabetically, either in a single class or under sub-headings. Periodicals relating to Parishes will generally be found among the dated works under the year when they first appeared. The Periodicals relating to County Administration have also always been placed under the date of the first of the series. This was done in order to keep all works relating to County Administration together, and because the date of the first number of each series was known. An alphabetical list of County Administration Periodicals has however been added.

It only remains for us to express our gratitude to the many friends and acquaintances who have aided us in our labours. Our special thanks are due to Mr Phelps, of Chestal, to Mr Fox, of Yate House, and to Mr Braikenridge, of Bath, for having allowed us to spend many hours in examining the contents of their splendid libraries. All of the illustrations in the first volume of the L.P. Edition of our Manual have, with the kind permission of Mr Phelps, been taken from works in the Chestal library. Our notice of Bristol tracts would have been far less complete, were it not for the help which we received from the late Rev. B. H. Blacker. Mr H. W. Bruton, Mr C. T. Davis, and Mr E. C. Sewell have repeatedly given us much valuable information, and made many useful suggestions. Some of the discontinued Gloucester Newspapers would have escaped our notice but for information supplied by Mr H. Y. J. Taylor. Mr Bellows has most kindly revised our statements as to the type in which important works are printed. Permission granted to us by Mr C. H. Dancey, Mr Clement Moore and Mr W. N. Skillicorne to inspect their collections of local books has been of great service to us; and we have received much kind assistance from others, whose names, though too numerous to mention, are gratefully remembered. We have had occasion to consult large numbers of books in the British Museum and Bodleian Libraries, and we desire to express our gratitude to the officials of both Institutions for their unfailing courtesy and attention.

We do not claim that these volumes form an exhaustive catalogue of Gloucestershire and Bristol Literature. Bibliographers know well how idle such a claim would be. We can however assure our subscribers that we have spared neither time nor trouble in making our work as complete as it lay in our power to do.

WORKS RELATING TO THE COUNTY GENERALLY

PART I. — GENERAL LITERATURE, EXCLUSIVELY RELATING TO THE COUNTY

1609. A Sermon Vpon the xii. xiij. and xiiij. Verses of the xiiij. Chapter of Ezechiel. Wherein are chiefly shewed both the originall & accidentall causes of euerie dearth and famine, and especially of this dearth in England now 1608 and 1609. With the effects and Fruites of the same, as also the helpes & remedies therof, if they may be speedily and effectually practised. Preached at Strowd in the Countie of Glocester and published for the good of the church Melitant. Whereunto is added a like Meditation of the same Author, vpon the 26. verse of the 11 Chapter of Salomons Prouerbs, which may be called the Poore mans Plea. By William Woodwall, Minister and Preacher of the word. 1609. London. Printed by E. A. for Ed. White, & are to be solde at his shop neere the little North doore of S. Paules Church at the Signe of the Gunne. 1609. sm. 4to. F.A.H.

Title, one leaf; To the Christian Reader, 2 leaves, A2—A3; Sermon, pp. 1-44, [A4]—G; "A prouerbe pronounced to all the cruell, couetous, and hard hearted Corne-maisters, Cloath-maisters, and al other olde Pinching penny-fathers at this day amongst vs . . ." pp. 45-49, G2-[G4]; A Meditation upon [Prov. xi, 26]. . . which may fitly be called The poore-mans Plea, pp. 51-68, H—K; To the indifferent Reader, 2 leaves, K2—[K3].

It is stated in the address "To the indifferent Reader" that "the Transportation of Corne, and all other victualls (fruite only except) from the Townes of Bewdley, Tewxburie, and the Citties of Worcester and Glocester, vnto Bristowe, &c." had been prohibited, to effect which the Justices of the Peace for Gloucestershire had been commanded "to appoint certaine honest and substantiall men to be searchers of all such boates or vessels as should passe on the riuer Seauerne, fro any of the foresaid places to another place, by which good means, it hath pleased God somewhat to mittigate the dayly encreasing price of corn & graine amongst vs."

The following is a M.S. note in the copy collated, in the handwriting of the late Rev. B. H. Blacker. "Subsidy Roll, 27 Oct. 1605. 'Stroud Will'mus Woodhull, curatus Stipend. vjs. viij.' This sum was the second payment of fourth subsidy granted 4 Eliz. and due 26 Mar. fr. W. Woodhull, but he refused to pay."

1612 Gloucestors Myte, Delivered with the mournefull Records of Great Britaine, into the World's Register. For the inrolement of the euerlasting Fame and perpetuall remembrance of our late most gratious Prince Henrie. With Motiues to Repentance. The materiall points touched, appeare in the next Page. London Imprinted by William Hall, for Ionas Man, 1612. sm. 4to. B.

Title and Contents, one leaf; Epistle Dedicatorie to Sir Richard Tracie by Tho: Rogers, dated Dec. 14, 1612, 2 leaves, A3—[A4]; Gloucester's Myte, 8 leaves B—[C4]. Written in verses of 6 lines each. There is a running title "Gloucesters Myte" at the head of each page. It appears from the dedication that Thomas Rogers was a resident at Tewkesbury.

1636 Annalia Dvbrensia. Vpon the yeerely celebration of Mr Robert Dover's Olimpick Games vpon Cotswold-Hills. Written by Michaell Drayton. Esq. Iohn Trvssell. Gent. William Dvrham. Oxon, William Denny Esq. Thomas Randall. Cant. Ben: Iohnson. Iohn Dover. Gent, Owen Feltham. Gent. Francis Izod. Gent, Nicholas Walling ton. Ox. Iohn Ballard. Oxon. Timothy Ogle. Gent. Thomas Sanford. Gent. Robert Griffin. Gent. Iohn Cole. Gent. Robert Dvrham. Oxon. A Sirinx Oxon. Iohn Monson. Esq. Walton Poole. Gent. Richard Wells. Oxon. William Forth. Esq. Shack: Marmyon. Gent. R N. Thomas Heywood. Gent. London, Printed by Robert Raworth, for Mathewe Walbancke. 1636. sm. 4to. W.P.

Title, one leaf; "To my worthy Friend Mr Robert Dover," signed Mat: Walbancke, one leaf, A2; Thirty-four poems, 33 leaves, unpaged, signed B—K; Woodcut, frontispiece. Lowndes' collation viz. "pp. 72 A—K2 with a frontispiece" is inaccurate and was probably taken from the reprint. The signatures are at first irregular. Leaving the frontispiece out of account, the book comprises pp. 70. The title (pp. 1-2) is, as usual, unsigned. Page 3 is signed A2 and page 5, B. After this the signatures proceed systematically in fours, the first 3 out of every 4 being signed and the 4th being always blank. Thus, pp. 5-70 are signed B, B2, B3 [B4], . . . I, I2, I3 [I4], K.

The Poems end on K verso. Thirty-two out of the thirty-four are by the Authors whose names appear on the title. The one stated to be by "R.N." is said in a M.S. note on the title of the Grenville copy in the British Museum to be by R. Newburgh. These thirty-three poems are eulogies on Robert Dover and his Olympic Games. The thirty-fourth (of which no mention is made on the title) is by Robert Dover himself, and is entitled, "A congratulatory Poem to My Poeticall and Learned Friends, Compilers of this Book." It is inserted between the verses by R.N. and those by Thos. Heywood, and is the last poem but one in the original edition.

The Frontispiece is a quaint woodcut intended to represent various scenes at the Games, e.g., coursing, single sticks, wrestling, dancing, feasting, etc., with an equestrian portrait of Robert Dover at the foot. It is minutely described by Anthony Wood under his notice of Clement Barksdale in Athenenæ Oxononienses. Facsimiles of the Frontispiece and Title are given in the 1. p. copies of this volume. See Pls. I. & II.

Copies of this work with the original frontispiece are excessively rare. Only one has (to the Authors' knowledge) been in the market during the last 10 years, and only six such copies have come under their notice. Of these, two are in the British Museum, two are in Mr Phelps' library at Chestal, one is in the possession of Lord Moreton, and one of Mr F. A. Hyett. The finest copy known is one of the Chestal copies, which measures $7\frac{1}{10} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ inches. The two copies in the British Museum came respectively from the Grenville and the Banks libraries. The former was a presentation copy to Sr. Thomas Trevor, and has in it Dover's autograph. It is rather badly cut, and measures only $6\frac{1}{4}$ and $4\frac{3}{10}$ inches. The Banks copy measures $6\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ inches.

Mr Grosart in the introduction to his Reprint (p. xix.) says that he knew of only three perfect copies besides his own; two of these were probably the British Museum copies.

Of original editions wanting the wood cut frontispiece we have seen five. Two of these are at Chestal, one is in the Library of the Gloucester Literary and Scientific Association, one is in the Bodleian, and one is in the possession of Mr F. A. Hyett.

There seem to have been at least two, if there were not more, issues of this edition, as many variations in spelling have been found in the copies examined. One of the Chestal copies wanting the frontispiece has several peculiarities, and on a leaf after the last poem is the following imprint—"Imprimatur Robert Field. August 29., 1679." This copy has, however, several blank leaves bound up with it, and it is not quite certain that the imprint belongs to it.

Perfect copies have fetched the following prices:—Saunders (1818) £13 2s 6d; Bindley (1818) £12 12s, [See Davis's Second Journey round the Library of a Bibliomaniac]; £7 7s, [See Introduction to Vyvyan's Reprint]; and it was priced in one of Thorpe's catalogues (1824) at £8 8s. The last copy in the market was sold for £5 5s, a sum probably much below its value.

The games in celebration of which these poems were written were instituted by Robert Dover and were held on a hill still called Dover's hill, situate in the parish of Weston-sub-edge, and about a mile from Chipping Campden. The date of their establishment is not known, but it was probably at the very beginning of the seventeenth century. From this time, except during the Commonwealth, they appear to have been held annually till 1851, when the inclosure of the common on which they were held necessitated their discontinuance. For some years prior to this they had deteriorated in character and were a source of much disorder to the neighbourhood.

Robert Dover was born circa 1575 and died 1641.

Mention of the Annalia Dubrensia and of Dovers Games will be found in the following works:—Wood's Athenenæ Oxononienses (under Barksdale), 2nd col., 1721, vol. ii., pp. 812, and Bliss's Edition, 1813, vol. iv., p. 222.

1636. ——— [Another Edition. A reprint of the first edition with a new frontispices and an additional poem. Between 1665 and 1725, but without change of date on title.] sm. 4to. F.A.H.

Title, one leaf; Matt. Walbanke's letter, one leaf, A2; Thirty-five poems, 34 leaves, B—[K2]. Frontispiece, a copperplate copy of the original woodcut frontispiece. This edition is so similar to the original edition that it has often been mistaken for it. It is of much the same size, and is printed on the same kind of paper and in the same type. The greater number of pages of both editions are almost identical in appearance. The title, with the exception of the transposition of the word "of" from the end of the 3rd to the beginning of the 4th line is a facsimile of the original. There are however some marked and important differences. After the ending of Matt. Walbanke's letter on A2 verso there is in the original only the catchword "TO." But in the reprint between the letter and the catchword the following words occur: "Dr Dover thought it his Duty to perpetuate the Memory of that Good Man his Grandfather." These words probably mean that the work was reprinted by Dr Dover to perpetuate his grandfather's memory, and from them the date of the reprint can be fixed within certain limits. Robert Dover had a grandson John, who was styled Dr Dover, and who was born in 1644 and died in 1725. It is not likely that Dr Dover would have interested himself in literary matters till of age. Hence his reprint must have appeared between 1665 and 1725, and it is probable that its appearance was nearer to the latter than the former year. There is yet another still more important difference. There is an anonymous poem added after that by Thomas Heywood (the last poem in the original), entitled "In celebration of the yearely Preserver of the Games at Cotswald." This poem ends on K2 recto. It is by "Will Davenant," and is to be found at p. 236 of the 1673 edition of his works. This poem is not mentioned on the title. The frontispiece, as has been stated, is a copperplate copy of the wood cut. No one acquainted with the various processes of engraving could mistake the one for the other, but it may be as well to note the following differences between them. In the original, the shading of the tent entrances is given by a few thick horizontal lines, and in the copy by several fine perpendicular lines. The first of the three horses on which men are seen galloping is white and the second is black in the original, while in the copy the first is black and the second white. The hound nearest to the hare under the scroll is black with a white collar in the original, and white with a black collar in the copy. The conventional scroll on the right is formed by one thick line in the original and by two fine lines in the copy. There are also some other minor differences.

This copperplate frontispiece was very accurately copied by Caulfield in his "Portraits and Memoirs of Remarkable Characters," 1794. Sometimes this plate with the foot-lettering ("Pubd. by Caulfield and Herbert 1794") cut off, is mounted and inserted in copies of the Annalia Dubrensia which want a frontispiece. In such cases, it is difficult to distinguish it from the original copperplate, and the following variations are therefore given.

The original plate is $6 \times 4\frac{5}{8}$ inches, and the Caulfield copy is $5\frac{9}{16} \times 4\frac{3}{8}$ inches, measured from the outside of the marginal lines. The head-lettering, "Cotswold Games" is in larger and heavier type in the original than in the copy, the former being $\frac{1}{4}$ and the latter $\frac{1}{8}$ inch in depth. The three men riding on the left centre all carry whips or sticks in their hands in the original, while the first only has one in the Caulfield plate.

There are here and there some trifling differences, e.g. in spelling or punctuation, between the text of the original and that of Dr Dover's reprint.

Most of the copies of the reprint examined are larger than any of the original, but as all of the latter extant have been cut by the binders, it may be that they were originally of the same size. One of the Bodleian copies measures $7\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ inches, and one in Thirlestaine House, Cheltenham, $7\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ inches. Mr H. W. Bruton's and Mr F. A. Hyett's copies each measure $7\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ inches. Lowndes gives the prices of the reprint as £2 10s, £2 11s, and £3 13s 6d.

Three copies have been sold at auctions in London between 1887 and 1898 at prices ranging from £1 9s to £23, and a few copies have during the past 10 years been priced in booksellers' catalogues at about the latter sum. One, an unusually fine one, bound by Roger Payne with M.S. additions, sold for £5 5s.

[Another Edition, entitled] Annalia Dubrensia or Celebration of Captain Robert Dover's Cotswold Games. Edited, with Introduction and Notes and Illustrations, by the Rev. Alexander B. Grosart, LL.D. . . . Fifty-Two Copies only. Printed for the Subscribers. 1877. sm. 4to. F.A.H.

Title, Imprint (Chas. E. Simms, Manchester) and List of Subscribers, 2 leaves; Introduction, pp. v-xxi; Reprint of original, including title, Walbanke's letter and 34 poems, pp. 1-70; Appendix (the 35th poem added in the Reprint), pp. 71-72; Notes and Illustrations, pp. 73-78. Frontispiece, a woodcut copy of the original from block cut for Chambers' Book of Days.

There is much interesting information in the preface to this edition, but Dr Grosart is mistaken in stating that the Reprint appeared in 1794. This error was probably caused by the date 1794 on the Caulfield copy of the frontispiece.

[Another Edition, entitled] Dover's Annalia Dubrensia. A Reprint. Edited by E. R. Vyvyan. Cheltenham: Williams & Son, The Library. 1878. sm. 4to. F.A.H.

Title and Imprint (Thomas Hailing, Cheltenham), one leaf; Introduction, pp. iii.-xii.; Copies of Placards of Dover's Meetings in 1806 and 1819, 3 leaves; Lithograph copy of original frontispiece, one leaf; reprint, including title, Walbranke's letter, and the 35 poems in Dr Dover's reprint, pp. 1-85. The frontispiece to this Reprint is a reduced copy of a picture of two celebrated backswordsmen, Mr Ebenezer Prestage, of Campden, and Mr Spyres, of Mickleton engaged in a fight. This print was, in 1878, in the possession of Mr Smith, of Aston-sub-Edge. Only 100 copies of this edition were printed.

1641½. To the Kings most Excellent Majestie. The hvmble Petition Of the Inhabitants of the County of Glocester, with their Protestation to his Majestie. Whereunto is annexed Sir Edward Hales, his worthy Speech in Parliament, Jan. 20. 1641. Vpon the reading of the Letter, which his Majestie sent to both Houses of Parliament. London, Printed for John Thomas, 1641. sm. 4to. B.M.

Title, one leaf; Petition, pp. 3; Sir E. Hales' Speech, pp. 3; not paged.

—— Exceeding Good Newes from the Earle of Essex And that noble Commander, Sergeant Major Skippon; Wherein is declared how the said Sergeant-major Skippon, with 4000. Horse and Foote, met with Princ' Robert, with 5000 Cavaliers, neere the City of Gloucester, on the twelfe of this instant December. Where they fought for the space of seven hours, and slew 800. of the Cavaliers, with the losse of 60. men, putting the rest to flight, and tooke foure Pieces of Ordnance, with store of other Ammunition. Also Sergeant-major Skippon's resolution concerning Prince Rgbert. December 16. printed for Joseph Hutton, 1642 sm. 4to. B.M.

Four leaves unpaged. Gloucester is not mentioned in the text, and the encounter described seems to have taken place, if indeed it ever took place at all, near Marlborough.

1642. Vox Populi, or, Glostersheres Desire: With The Way and Means to make a Kingdome Happy (by Gods help.) By setting up of Schoolemasters in every Parish throughout the Land generally. Being fit for the help of Religious ministers in their Heavenly Worke. And for the removing of the three Capitall enormities of this Land, viz. Ignorance, Profanesse and Idlenesse. Set forth for the Benefit of all young Children in the Kings Dominions: With Schoole-Lawes and Orders, for every English Schoole-Master, and Family, to have in their Houses. For the training up young Children both in Godlinesse and Manners, for the Good of the Land. With the confuting of certain Objections that would hinder and make void so good a Worke. By Samuel Harmar. London, Printed for Thomas Bates, and are to be sold at hsi (sic) Shop in the Old-Bayly, 1642. sm 4to. B.M.

Title and text, 6 leaves unpaged, signed [A2—B2.]

1643 Feb. 14. His Majesties Letter to the High-Sheriffe and Justices of the Peace of the County of Glocester. Printed, by His Majesties Command, At Oxford, February 14. By Leonard Lichfield Printer to the University. 1642. sm 4to. W.P.

Title, one leaf; Letter, pp. 5.

In this letter the High Sheriff and two Justices were commanded to levy contributions in aid of the royalist cause, and make a return of those who were well affected and of those who were ill affected towards the King. They were further directed to require the Trained Bands to send their arms to Cirencester "within tenne daies after the date of this letter" and all traffic with the City of Gloucester was prohibited. It was ordered that the letter be read in all Churches and Chapels in the County.

—— Feb. 25 A Famous Victorie obtained Against the Cavaliers in the County of Gloucestor: By Sir William Waller, on Munday last at a town called Padsworth; how there was six score of the Cavaliers killed on the place, most of them being gentlemen of quality, and chief Commanders in the Kings Army; and one of them is supposed to be a younger Brother to the Duke of Lenox. With A true Description of the manner of the Fight, and what Forces were on both sides with many other remarkable Passages concerning the same, which would be too long to mention in the Title. London Feb. 25 Printed for R. Wood. 1643. sm 4to. B.M.

Title, one leaf; A True Relation, pp. 6.

Corbet makes no mention of this encounter; but it is referred to in The Perfect Diurnall of Feb. 20-27, 1642-3, where Padsworth is spoken of as "a small town," "not far from Gloucester." The only place in the neighbourhood with a name at all similar is Badgeworth. Possibly, however, it was Padsworth in Berkshire; or perhaps the tract, like many others, is ficticious.

1643. Mar. 31. A Famous Victorie obtained By Sir William Waller, against the Lord Herbert and the Welch Cavaliers in the Forrest of Deane in the County of Gloucester, where six hundred of the Welchmen were slaine, and a thousand taken prisoners by the Parliaments Forces, the said Lord Herbert Generall of South-Wales being slain.

Also A true Relation of the whole Proceedings of the said Sir William Waller in that County, showing in what manner he faced Cicester, and what stratagem he and Colonell Massey (who is Governour of Gloucester) used when they obtained this victory against the Welch, with the number of men which have been lost by Sir William Waller, and what strength he hath. London, March 31. Printed for Robert Wood. 1643. sm 4to. W.N.S.

Title, one leaf; Text, pp. 1-6.

1643. Sept. 14. A true Relation Of the severall passages which have happened to our Army since it advanced towards Glocester, with The manner of the reliefe of the same, Related in a Letter from a Friend in the Army, to an Honourable person here in the City. Likewise An Abstract of severall remarkable passages, which happened at Glocester between the Towne and the Enemy, in the time of the Siege, collected by an Eye-Witnesse. This is Licensed . . . London, Printed by G. Dexter, for Stephen Bowtell, at the signe of the Bible in Popes-head-Alley. Anno 1643. Sept. 14. sm. 4to. B.M.

Title, one leaf; Letter, dated Sept. 6, Postcript, Message shot into the City, Answer, and Epigram upon two Lawyers, Bell and Hill, pp. 1-6.

Reprinted in Bibl. Glouc., pp. 273-281.

—— A Letter from an Officer in his Majesties Army, to a Gentleman in Gloucester-shire, upon occasion of certain Querees scattered about that Country. Printed in the Yeare 1643. sm. 4to. W.P.

Title, one leaf; Letter, pp. 15. Probably by Peter Heylyn. Reprinted with two other letters. See "Three Letters: The First, From an Officer . . . " p. 105.

—— A Petition Presented unto His Maiestie At His Court at Bristol on the 7 day of August, 1643. 1644/5, Mar. 18. Fovre Ordinances of the Lords and Commons, Assembled in Parliament, Viz. The 1. for raising and maintaining of Horse and Foot for the Garrison of Glocester. The 2. for a weekly Assessement on the County and City of Glocester. The 3. for continuance of a weekly Assessement on the City and County of Glocester. The 4 concerning Currans. 13 Martii 1644 . . . [Order to print] London, Printed for Edward Husbands, March 18 1645. sm. 4to. B.M.

Title, one leaf; Ordinances, pp. 14. Black letter.

Reprinted in Bibl. Glouc., pp. 343-355.

By the first ordinance, dated May 10, 1644, after reciting that the County and City of Gloucester "are now in a sad condition by reason of the enemies lying upon them and keeping many garrisons in the county," and "considering. . . the extraordinary and faithfull service performed at, before and since the late siege of Gloucester" a committee was appointed with authority to take subscriptions of money, plate, horse or arms, and to sequestrate "malignants', delinquents' and papists' estates." The second ordinance was dated Oct. 2, 1644, and the third March 13, 164⅝. The fourth ordinance, dated Mar. 15, 164⅝, ordered that the "third part of the profit that shall arise out of the customes payable on currans" should be paid to Nathaniell Stephens, Thomas Hodges and Thomas Pury for the use of the Gloucester Garrison.

1648. The Gloucester-shire Ministers Testimony to the Truth of Jesus Christ, and to The Solemne League and Covenant; As Also Against the Errours, Heresies, and Blasphemies of these times, and the Toleration of them. Sent to the Ministers within the Province of London, Subscribers of the former Testimony. Together with a letter annexed, from a faithfull Minister, to a Friend of his in London. London. Printed by John Clowes 1648. sm. 4to. F.J.

Title, one leaf; Testimony, pp. 1-4; Letter (signed I.W.), pp. 5, 6. [A—A4.]

This tract is of historical interest, as it gives the names of 65 Ministers and the places at which they respectively ministered. It is probable that I.W. is Joshua Woodward, Minister of Dursley, the last of the signatories.

—— —— [Another Edition.] Re-printed at Edinburgh by Evan Tyler, Printer to the Kings most Excellent Majesty. 1648. sm. 4to. W.P.

Title, one leaf; Text, pp. 1-5 [A—A4]. A reprint.

1651. Nympha Libethris: or the Cotswold Muse, Presenting some extempore Verses to the Imitation of young Scholars. In four Parts. [Quotation from Cicero, commencing,] Quis me reprehendat . . . London Printed for F.A. at Worcester. 1651. Pott 8vo. B.M.

Title and Quotations from Pliny [Epistles i., 13, & vii., 8], one leaf; "The Consecration of all. . To my Lady Chandos," and "To the same," one leaf, A4; "No Frontispiece my verses have. . ." one leaf; Title to Pt. I. and quotations from Pliny [Epistles i., 3 & vii., 28], one leaf; "Adolescentibus bonæ spei" etc., "The Chief Names honoured by my Muse," and several short pieces in verse, 3 leaves; Nympha Libethris, Pt. I., pp. 1-23 [B—C4]; Title to Pt. II., one leaf; Dedication "To the Hopes of Hawling Mr Henry and Mr Richard Stratfords and Part II., pp. 25-47 [C6—D8]; Pt. III., including Title and Dedication, pp. 49-68[E—F2]; Pt. IV., including Title and Dedication, pp. 69-96 [F3—G8]. The Title to Pt. I. is "Nympha Libethris or the Cotswold Muse," and that to Pts. II., III. & IV. "The Cotswold Muse." Each part ends "London, Printed for F. A. at Worcester 1651."

The only connection which this book has with Gloucestershire is its title. It consists of a number of very short poems and epigrams, for the literary merit of which not much can be said. Pts. I. & II. comprise 50 numbered pieces each, while Pt. III. comprises 34 and Pt. IV., 58. A list of these is given in Sir Egerton Brydges' Censuria Literaria, vol. vi., pp. 17-29 by "T.P." [T. Park] where the book is fully described. It is there stated that the printer "F. A." was Francis Ash of Worcester, to whom some of Barksdale's verses are addressed. Ash was also a noted binder. According to Anthony Wood, Nympha Libethris has sometimes been mistaken for Annalia Dubrensia. It is a rare book. A copy sold in 1818 for £15 15s., and another in 1892 for £28 10s.

[Another Edition, entitled] Nympha Libethris, or the Cotswold Muse. By Clement Barksdale, A.M. of Sudeley in Gloucestershire. First Printed 1651. A New Edition. London: Printed by T. Bensley and Son, Bolt Court, Fleet Street, 1816. 12mo. F.A.H.

Two titles and Dedication to T. B. B. B. Esq., dated May 29, 1816, and signed S. E. B. [Samuel Egerton Brydges], 3 leaves; Advertisement (dated May 22, 1816, also signed S. E. B.), pp. vii-ix.; Half-title, "No Frontispiece, etc.," Original title, and quotation from Pliny, 2 leaves; To my Lady Chandos, and other English and Latin Verses and Quotations, Title to Pt. I., Quotations, and List of chief Names honoured by the Muse, pp. v.-xiv. Pt. I., pp. 1-25; Pt. II., pp. 27-51; Pt. III., pp. 53-75; Pt. IV., pp. 75-106. Signatures from Half-title to end, B—F12, in twelves. Each part has a title included in pagination. Page 23 is numbered 32. Only 41 copies were printed, of which three are in the British Museum and one is in the Bodleian.

Clement Barksdale, the Author of this work, was born at Winchcomb in 1609. He was chaplain to the Chandos family at Sudeley during the first years of the Civil War. About 1650 he opened a private school at Hawling, and it was here that he wrote the Nympha Libethris. After the Restoration he held the livings of Naunton and of Stow-on-the-Wold. He was the author of "The Disputation at Winchcombe" and of many other theological and of some biographical works. He died in January, 1687. There is a brass tablet to his memory in Naunton Church.

[1655.] Harry Hangman's Honour: or, Gloucester-shire Hangman's Request to the Smoakers or Tobacconists in London. sm. 4to. B.M.

Pp. 16. The following quotations give some idea of the nature of this tract. "The truth is, gentlemen, the very planting of Tobacco hath proved the decay of my Trade; for since it hath been planted in Gloucestershire, especially at Winchcombe, my trade hath proved nothing worth."

"Many that stood on the top of Bredon-hill viewing the Country, would say, Yonder is rich Worcester, brave Gloucester, proud Tewkesbury, beggarly Evesham, drunken Pershore and roguish Winchcombe."

Some pages are devoted to "Deerhurst Fayre," but they are much too coarse for quotation.

[1659.] A Declaration of the City and County of Gloucester. Broadside. B.M.

An Address asking for the freedom of sitting and voting in Parliament for their representatives, and declaring that "they would not otherwise consent to pay Tax or other Impositions." It is stated that "This Declaration being subscribed by great numbers of Considerable Persons of that County was to have been presented to the Speaker by some of them, but considering how Sir Rob. Pye and Major Fincher's handsome behaviour, was unhandsomely rewarded with Imprisonment, for a particular of the same nature, it was thought more proper to preserve the Liberty of Personages of so much worth, for a better opportunity and therefore it was thought fit thus to communicate this for the vindication of that county, and satisfaction of the whole nation."

[1648] The Remonstrance of the Knights, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Gloucester. We doe claim and avow it to be our undoubted Birthright and Liberty, That no new Laws, much lesse any new Government, can, or ought to be imposed upon us; nor any Taxes Contributions, or Free-quarter taken of us without the Consent of the People of this Nation in a Free-Parliament Assembled; which Liberties have been often confirmed to us by the Great Charter, the Petition of Right, and many other Statutes; and Parliaments being the only Bulwark and defence of our Liberties, as men and Christians ought to be, freely elected and to sit and vote without interruption or opposition by any persons whatsoever: The Priviledges whereof we are all bound to maintain and defend, and to assist and maintain each other in the defence thereof. And therefore we resolve, according to our bounden duty, to joyn with the Lord Mayor and Common-councell of the City of London, and all other Counties in England in pursuance thereof. And we doe not doubt but all true-hearted Englishmen who love their own Liberties, and are not willing to be made Slaves, or to inslave their Brethren will joyn with us herein. s. sh. fol. B.M.

Date in M.S. "Jan. 23, 1659."

1660. The Loyal Addresse Of the Gentry of Gloucestershire. To the Kings most Excellent Majesty. London, Pr. for Humphrey Tuckey, at the black-spread Eagle in Fleet-street, over against St. Dunstans Church. 1660. [June 21 in MS.] s. sh. fol. B.M.

A congratulatory address to Charles II. on his restoration. It is signed by 89 gentry and others, and was presented to his Majesty on June 19 by Lord Herbert.

[1661.] Articles of Visitation and Enquiry Concerning matters Ecclesiastical, exhibited To the Ministers, Church-Wardens, and Side-men of every Parish within the Diocese of Gloucester, In the First Episcopal Visitation of the Right Reverend Father in God, William, By Divine Providence, Lord Bishop of Gloucester. 1664. Articles of Visitation and Enquiry concerning Matters Ecclesiastical, Exhibited To the Ministers, Church-Wardens and Sidemen of every Parish within the Arch-deaconry of Gloucester, In the Visitation of the Archdeacon. London, Printed for George Dawes at the sign of the White Horse in Chancery Lane near Lincolns-Inn 1664. sm. 4to. Black letter. B.M.

Title and form of oath, one leaf; Articles, pp. 1-9. Many similar "Articles" of a later date have been seen.

[1668.] The Bloody Murther in Gloucester-shire. Or, A Grand Peice of Inhumane Cruelty. Being a Full and True Relation, how Elizabeth Skidmore, of the Town of Monmouth; In March last, travelling from London into the Country, to see her Husband and Children, was over taken, and for some part of her journey was accompanied by a Glover in Hereford, who, as 'tis believed, did most Barbarously Murther her not farr from Gloucester, by breaking her neck, and other abuses; and making his escape, was overtaken by Hue and Cry, and committed to Gaol, there to remain until he be removed the next Assizes. Likewise an account how the spirit of the said Woman doth appear to him every night in the prison, in a most dreadful manner disturbing all the Prisoners with her hideous shrieks, so that he is forced to have his Wife who is big with-child to lye with him every night in the prison. Together with several other passages of note, which have been attested to by sundry persons of credit, who do affirm the same to be real truth. Licensed, May 28. Ko. L'Estrange. London, Printed for John Hose, next door but one to the Rose-Inn neer Holbourne-bridge, over-against the Kings Arms. sm. 4to. M.

Pp. 8, including Title. At the end is the following:—"Postcript. If any One doubt of the Truth of this Relation, let them go to Mr Satchel, at the Sign of the Lyon and Arthychoke, over-against Exeter-Change, in the Strand, and they may be further satisfied." The date "1668" is in M.S. on title of the copy examined. "Ko. L'Estrange" must be a misprint for "Ro. L'Estrange," as Roger L'Estrange was licenser of the press in 1668. It was advertised in Russell Smith's Catalogue of Gloucestershire Tracts (1878) as bearing date 1628. This must be an error, as Roger L'Estrange's appointment dates from 1663. No other copy has been seen.

[1672.] The Skilful Doctor of Glocester-shire Or A new way to take Physick. Broadside. Black letter. B.M.

Thirty verses. Pr. by F. Coles, T. Vere & J. Wright. A humourous tale, but more to the taste of the 17th than the 19th century.

Two Specimen Sheets, comprising chapter I. of the intended work, accompanied the proposals.

Another and enlarged edition of these proposals was issued in the following year, in which it was stated that the History was then in the Press, and would appear "by Midsummer next at farthest." The list of subscribers contained additional names. Three specimen sheets accompanied this edition consisting of the whole of cap. i., pp. 1-4 and a part of cap. ii., pp. 1-2. There is a copy in the Bodleian with M.S. alterations and additions.

[1686] The Natural History of Gloucester-shire. By Abel Wantner, Citizen of Gloucester. Fol. 3 leaves B.

Specimen pages which accompanied the proposals to print noticed above. Pp. 1-4, comprise "Chap. I. Of the Ancient City of Gloucester, from its Original"; followed by pp. 1-2 "Chap. II. Of the Ancient Abby, and the Now Cathedral Church of Gloucester, from their Originals."

The title is altered in MS. to "The Antiquities and Memoires of The City and County of Gloucester" As these specimen sheets and the proposals to print are among the Furney MSS. in the Bodleian, it may be assumed that the alterations are by Archdeacon Furney.

The bill referred to charged the defendants with having levied and received certain sums of money from certain Nonconformists, and this Broadside was a notice to all such persons to come up and give evidence before a Commission about to be held. It contains the names and residences of some 250 Gloucestershire Nonconformists.

[1698?] A Speech made at the General Quarter-Sessions, held for the County of G . . . . r. s. sh. fol. B.M.

A squib intended to turn the supposed speaker, John Grubham Howe, into ridicule. The last sentence is as follows: "I shall live in the Voice of Fame, and be immortal in two Kingdoms, the Annals of England will always remember me, and the French Historians can never forget Monsieur Jaccou." Howe was M.P. for Cirencester 1689-98; and for Gloucestershire 1698-1701 and 1702-1705. He passed his later years at Stowell House, Gloucestershire, which he had purchased. He died in 1722, and was buried in the chancel of Stowell Church. At the election in Dec. 1701 he was defeated after a contest described by Macaulay as "a national affair." He was familiarly known as "Jack Howe," which on account of his French leanings was transformed into "Monsieur Jaccou."

1705. An Appeal to the Freeholders of England on behalf of themselves, against the unwarrantable Proceedings of Sir Samuel Eckly, late High Sheriff of the County of Gloucester . . . sm. 4to. W.P.

Pp. 7. No title. It is dated at end April 20. 1705. The appeal related to an alleged illegal return by the High Sheriff that Maynard Colchester and John How had been elected Knights of the Shire for Gloucestershire. It was said that Sir John Guise had received more votes than Mr How, and that the scrutiny by which this result was reversed, had been improperly conducted.

1710. The Gloucestershire Address To Her Majesty. s. sh. fol. B.

Printed 1710. The Address is by the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace and others assembled at the Assizes for the County on Mar. 18, 170$\frac{9}{10}$, declaring their loyalty to Queen Anne. It was presented on Ap. 5, 1710, by Allen Bathurst, M.P. for Cirencester. Reprinted without material alteration in "A Collection of all the Addresses that have been presented to Her Majesty, since March the 25th, 1710."

—— The Gloucestershire Address, Redress'd. Printed in the year 1710. s. sh. fol. W.P.

Printed on both sides. The writer ridicules the Address and traces a similarity between it and one of Dr Sacheverell's sermons. Mr Phelps's copy is dated in MS. 4 April, 1710.

1712. The Ancient and Present State of Glostershire. By Sir Robert Atkyns. London: Printed by W. Bowyer for Robert Gosling at the Mitre, near the Inner-Temple Gate, in Fleet street, 1712. fol. F.A.H.

Title, one leaf; Preface and Advertisement (stating that by mistake the Deerhurst Charters had been joined to those of Winchcomb and that the Parish of Sevenhampton was placed at the end of the Parishes), 4 leaves; "The Authors Epitaph, as it is graven upon his Monument erected in Memory of him by his most virtuous and affectionate Lady, in the Church of Saperton in the County of Gloster," one leaf; Observations preparatory to the following Treatise, pp. 1-30; Glostershire, pp. 31-81; Gloster-City, pp. 82-197; The Parishes of the County of Gloster [Abbenhall—Yate, in alphabetical order], pp. 198-857; Parish of Sevenhampton, pp. 857-859; Index Of the more Considerable Persons, and of the Hamlets, pp. 7, unpaged.

The first leaf of the Preface is signed A2, the 4 leaves following are unsigned. Pp. 1-859 and the pp. 7 of Index are signed B—Ssssss in fours. Pp. 1-859 are printed in double columns, in great primer type, leaded.

There are 74 plates, the last 64 of which were engraved by I. Kip, and all of them were also drawn by him, except that of Badminton which was drawn by Knyff. They are signed by him but are not dated, and in this edition are unnumbered.

In the second edition each plate bears the number of the page on which it is referred to. Hence when two are mentioned on the same page they bear the same number.

In the following list the first number after each plate is that of the page after which it should be found in the first edition; and the second number [in brackets] is the number printed on each plate of the second edition.

The plate of "Wotton, the Seat of Tho. Horton Esq." is almost invariably misplaced, the binder having apparently supposed that it was the seat of Tho. Horton at Combe End, Elkstone, referred to on page 428, and placed it after that page.

The following errors in pagination always occur, viz.:—

" 762 " 767.
" 767 " 762.

Pages 746 and 751 in some copies are numbered respectively 754 and 759.

The work was possibly in type during Atkyns' life time, but it did not appear until the year after his death. Gough says it "was very expensive to the undertaker, who printed it in a pompous manner." It was published at £5 5s., but its value soon rose, owing to the destruction of the greater part of the impression by a fire which occurred at Bowyer's printing office in Whitefriars, on Jan. 29, 1712-13, and "some of the copies which were rescued from the flames still retain the indelible marks" [Upcott's English Topography, vol. i., p. 246.] When Rudder issued his proposals to print a history of the County, a copy of Atkyns was worth £21.

There were two issues of the first edition, which may be distinguished by the vignette on the title page. The one usually met with consists of a figure of Mercury on a scroll between two birds. In the other, which is of very rare occurrence, two flying cupids are the prominent features.

Notwithstanding more than one attempt to displace it, this work still maintains preeminence among the histories of our county. The transcripts of the grants and charters were collected by Dr Richard Parsons, Chancellor of the diocese of Gloucester, who contemplated publishing a history of the county in two volumes, one to be entitled "Memoirs of the antient abbey and present cathedral of Gloucester," and the other "A parochial visitation of the diocese;" but ill health prevented the accomplishment of his design. [Gough's British Topography, vol. i., p. 372]. This is alluded to by Sir Robert in the opening paragraph of his preface, but there is no acknowledgment of assistance from Dr Parsons. "It were to be wished that more authorities had been given" [Id. vol. i., p. 372].

Browne Willis complains [Leland's Collectanea, vol. vi., p. 206] that the accounts of some Gloucestershire Abbeys with which he had supplied Atkyns had not been correctly printed by him, and desires that such accounts in his View of the Mitred Abbeys are to be looked upon as more correct than those in Atkyns' work.

The account of each parish usually comprises the following information:—(1) Its situation with distances from adjacent towns (not always accurate). (2) The devolution of the Manor, preceded in some cases by extracts from Domesday Book. This portion of the work is the most complete, and must be considered its principal feature. (3) A short description of the Church, with a history of its endowments. Lists of former patrons and incumbents are sometimes given. Mention is made of the more important monuments and inscriptions in the church, but the latter are not given in extenso. (4) The amount of First Fruits, Tenths Synodals, etc. (5) The number of Houses, of Inhabitants and of Freeholders. (6) The yearly Births and Burials. (7) Amount of Tax paid To the Royal Aid in 1692 and of Land Tax and Poll Tax in 1694. Besides the above, the physical peculiarities of the parish are sometimes mentioned as well as the more important events which have occurred in it. Extracts from Camden's Britannia are not infrequent.

The views of the seats are copper plate engravings, drawn and etched by Johannes Kip in his earliest manner. They will be appreciated more by the antiquary than the artist, as they are in a style (much in vogue during the early part of the last century), in which the draughtsman endeavoured to make his work at once a landscape and a plan. But they are historically of interest and of value, as since their execution many of the houses which they portray have been much altered, and some have been demolished. Few will now agree with Gough in censuring Sir Robert for having adorned his work with too many "views and prospects," as it is probable that the number and character of the engravings has done quite as much as the nature of the letter-press, to enhance its value and reputation.

It has been questioned whether these plates were specially executed for Atkyns' History, or whether they had not been previously etched by Kip for his own works. From their re-appearance subsequently to 17$\frac{13}{14}$ it has been argued that they were not on Bowyer's premises when the fire occurred there in that year, and that they were not there because they were Kip's property. It is certainly noticeable that the portrait of Sir Robert Atkyns—which was not engraved by Kip—did not appear in the second edition of his History. This has always been attributed to the loss of the plate from which it was engraved, in the fire. A more conclusive reason, however, for thinking that the plates in question were not Atkyns' property is to be found in the fact that all of the 64 views of Seats etc., as well as the 8 leaves of Coats of Arms, appeared in the several editions of Kip's Britannia Illustrata, or as it is sometimes entitled, Nouveau Théâtre de la Grande Britagne, which appeared before 1740. This accounts for the worn condition of the plates when they re-appeared in the second edition of Atkyns in 1768. It is stated in the Dictionary of National Biography, vol. xxxi., p. 194, that the first edition of vol. ii. of Britannia Illustrata (which contained 62 out of the 64 Atkyns plates) appeared in 1709. If this is so, the plates referred to must have been published 3 years before they appeared in Atkyns' History. No copy of vol. ii. bearing an earlier date than 1716 has been seen, but there is a copy of vol. iii. dated 1712 in the Bodleian. Whether the plates in question appeared first in the Britannia, or in the Ancient and Present State of Glostershire, it seems probable that they were drawn and engraved by Kip at Atkyns' request, and that he agreed to supply Atkyns with a certain number of impressions, retaining the right to use them for his own works whenever he thought fit. But for some arrangement of this sort, it would have been hardly likely that out of the 102 views in one volume of Kip's work, 62 should have been views of seats in Gloucestershire. That Kip did not wish to call attention to the undue preponderance of one county in a work professing to be national, is evident from his list of plates, where the county in which each seat is situated is stated, except in the case of those in Gloucestershire.

The two Atkyns plates not comprised in vol. ii. of the Britannia were those of "Badminton" and "Gloster Cathedral," the former of which appeared in vol. iii., and the latter in vol. iv. of the 1724 edition [called the Nouveau Théâtre], but it is not mentioned in the contents. There are 3 views of Badminton in some editions of vol. i. of the Britannia and 4 in others, numbered respectively 9-11 and 9-12. No. 9 is almost identical with the view of Badminton in Atkyns, but it is from a different plate.

There is a rare print of Hempsted Court, etched by Kip from a drawing by Robins, which is said by the Rev. S. Lysons to have been executed for Atkyns' History, but it was not included in that work, nor was it published in Britannia Illustrata.

The views from Atkyns are often to be met with separate from the work, but rarely in complete sets. All of the plates were, it is said, sold to a brazier in Cambridge as old copper, and destroyed [Lowndes, vol. iii., p. 1075]. The finest copy of this work which has come under our notice is the property of H. W. Bruton, Esq., of Bewick House, Gloucester. It measures 16 × 10½ inches.

The following are the prices which copies of this edition have realized at some of the principal sales. When known the size of the copy sold is stated.

Canon Lysons (1880)	£42
Cornerford (1881)	£41
Sunderland (1881), 15⅞ × 10¼ ins. . . .	£44
Beckford (1882), 15⅝ ins. high . .	£52
R. Colt Hoare (1883), 15¾ × 10¼ ins. . . .	£38
J. D. T. Niblett (1884), badly cut . . .	£30
Hartley (1885), 15⅛ × 10⅛ ins. . . .	£38

From "Book Prices Current" it appears that the prices, which copies of this work have sold for, at public sales in London since 1886, have been as follows:—£21 and £39 (1887); £33 and £27 (1888); £29 (1889); £25 (1891) and £14 (1892).

Sir Robert Atkyns was born in 1647. He was the only son of Sir Robert Atkyns, Chief Baron of the Exchequer, and sometime speaker of the House of Lords. He was descended from David Atkyns, a Chepstow merchant, who died in 1552, and who before his death removed to Tuffley. Here he and his descendants resided until the purchase of Sapperton Manor by Chief Baron Atkyns. The family was remarkable for the number of eminent lawyers which it had produced. Sir Robert's father (the Chief Baron) wrote, that "He himself and his three immediate ancestors, having been of the profession for near two hundred years, and in judicial places; and (thro' the blessing of Almighty God) have prospered by it." Sir Robert was Knighted by Charles II. on his visit to Bristol in 1663. He was M.P. for Cirencester, 1680-1 and for the County of Gloucester, 1684-5. He died at his house in Westminster in 1711, one year before the publication of his History of Gloucestershire. Hence the insertion in that work of the Epitaph on his monument. He was buried in Sapperton Church.

[The second edition, entitled] The Ancient and Present State of Glocestershire. By Sir Robert Atkyns, Knt. The Second Edition. Illustrated with Seventy-Three Copper-Plates, Containing a Map of the County, a Plan and Prospect of the City, a View of the Cathedral, Sixty One Seats, and Three Hundred and Twenty Coats of Arms, of the Nobility and Gentry residing in the County at the Time of the first Publication. London, Printed in the Year MDCCXII. Reprinted by T. Spilsbury, for W. Herbert, at No. 27, in Goulston-Square; and Sold by J. Millan, at Charing Cross; T. Payne, at the Mews-Gate; Davis and Reymers, opposite Gray's-Inn Gate, Holborn; B. White, in Fleet-Street; Baker and Leigh in York-Street, and T. Davies in Russell-Street, Covent-Garden; J. Brotherton and H. Parker, in Cornhill; G. Keith, in Gracechurch-Street: J. Buckland, Haines and Co. Johnson and Payne, in Pater-Noster Row; J. Robson, in New Bond-Street;

T. Cadell, Successor to Mr. Millar, in the Strand; and W. Otridge, behind the New Church in the Strand: and by T. Dunn, in Glocester. MDCCLXVIII. fol. W.B.

Title, one leaf; Preface and Advertisement (as in first edition), 3 leaves; The Author's Epitaph and Directions to Binder, one leaf; Map of Glostershire (same as in 1st ed.), 2 leaves; Observations preparatory to the following Treatise, pp. 1-43 [B—M2]; Glocester City, pp. 44-101 [M2—Dd]; The Parishes in the County of Glocester (Abbenhall—Yate), pp. 102-451, and Sevenhampton, pp. 451-2 [Dd—5y2]; Index of the more Considerable Persons etc., 3 leaves [5 Z—6 A]. This edition, like the first is printed in double columns, but it is in pica, solid. The Author's Portrait is wanting, and there is a different vignette on the title. "The West Prospect of Gloster" inscribed in the first edition to "Sr John Powell Judge of the Queen's Bench" is in this edition inscribed "To the Mayor and Aldermen," but is otherwise unaltered. The inscription had been altered as early as 1724 when the plate was used for Kip's Nouveau Théâtre. The lettering on the map of the County is in a different type to that on the map in the first edition. The plate of "Broadwell the seat of Danvers Hodges Esq" is either a new plate or it was re-touched for this edition. The lettering at the top of it is different, and the signature is not in the same position. It is also blacker and somewhat bolder in style. It appeared in the same state as in the first edition, but much worn, in vol. ii. of Kip's Britannia Illustrata, 1716. Gough says that two plates which had been lost were supplied by the editor. If so, these may have been "The West Prospect of Gloster" and "Broadwell." They both bear Kip's signature, but they must have been copied from his plates by another hand, as Kip died in 1722. It is probable, however, that both had been prepared for one of the later editions of the Britannia Illustrata. With these exceptions the plates are the same as in the first edition, a list of which has been given.

This edition was edited by William Herbert, the editor of Ames' Typographical Antiquities, but it does not display his usual industry. He merely reprinted the work, and though he corrected some clerical errors, he did not take the trouble to rectify those indicated by the Author in the Advertisement to the first edition, or to put the parish of Sevenhampton in its proper place. Probably it was hurried through the press, in order to forestall Rudder's History of Gloucestershire, the prospectus of which had appeared in 1767. By a curious coincidence, many copies of this edition were also destroyed by fire.

Some large paper copies were printed on superior paper. The largest which has come under our notice is in the possession of Mr. C. H. Dancey, of 6 Midland Rd., Gloucester, and measures 18 × 11½ inches. In these, possibly through more careful printing, the worn condition of the plates is not so obvious as in the small paper copies.

It was published at 2 guineas. This low figure was probably fixed on by the editor to undersell Rudder, whose New History of Gloucestershire had been advertised at £2 10s.

Mr. Niblett's copy fetched £15 in 1883, and the following prices have since been realized (See Book Prices Current, 1886-1898):—£9 10s. (1886); £11 5s., £10 15s., and £7 7s. (1887); £15 10s. and £9 (1888); £13 13s. (1889); £7 7s. 6d., £7, and £7 5s. (1890); and £7 10s. (1898).

1776. The New Navigation: or, Stroud-Water Triumphant: A Poem, in two cantos. Address'd to the Proprietors, On their Success in obtaining a New Act of Parliament, to complete the Canal. [Quot.] Printed in the year 1776. sm. 4to. W.P.

Title and Advert., one leaf; Poem, pp. 3-16.

—— A Prophecy of Merlin. An Heroic Poem. Concerning the wonderful Success of a Project now on foot, to make the River from the Severne to Stroud in Glocestershire navigable. Translated from the original Latin, annexed, with Notes explanatory. Citizens of no mean City. London 1776. 4to. J.M.

Title, one leaf; Pref., dated April, 1776, pp. i., ii.; Poem, in English, pp. 1-18 Id., in Latin, pp. 19-22? One leaf is apparently missing, and perhaps also a half-title, in the copy collated, which is the only one that has been seen.

The English translation is attributed to Nathaniel Elliott of Oxford. The Latin version had been originally published in 1731 with another English translation in 126 lines, entitled "The British Merlin," and printed on a single sheet, folio. The Author of the original poem is unknown. "It was intended to ridicule, as an absurdly ambitious project, the plan for making the Stroudwater navigable." [See Fisher's Notes and Recollections of Stroud, 1871, p. 38.]

The British Merlin was reprinted in the Chronicles and Lamentations of Gotham, 1817, pp. 29-32.

c. 1778. The Case between the Lord Bishop of Gloucester and the Dean, relative to the Confirmation of a Patent to Mr Stock, of a Joint-Registrarship. Fol. F. Mo.

Pp. 2. This Registrarship seems to have been a life appointment in the gift of the Bishop, requiring the concurrence of the Dean and Chapter. The Bishop usually appointed a relative or friend. In this case the Dean and Chapter had refused to concur, on the ground that the then Bishop, Dr Warburton, was very old and very rich, and that it would be a hardship on his successor to deprive him of this patronage.

1779. A New History of Gloucestershire, comprising the Topography, Antiquities, Curiosities, Produce, Trade, and Manufactures of that county; The Foundation-Charters and Endowments of Abbies, and other Religious Houses; The Foundation of the Bishoprick, &c. with a short Biographical Account of the Bishops and Deans; The Names of the Patrons and Incumbents, and the Antient and Present value of all the Ecclesiastical Benefices; Charters of Incorporation, and Civil Government Of the several Boroughs; Descriptions of the Principal Seats; Descent of the Manors; Genealogies of Families, With their Arms, Monumental Inscriptions, &c. In the Course of this Work is given The History of every Parish, Tithing, and Extraparochial Place in the County. Also the Ecclesiastical, Civil, and Military History of the City of Gloucester, From its First Foundation to the Present Time. With a Copy of Domesday-Book for Gloucestershire, now first printed in the Language, and after the Manner of the Original. Illustrated with a Map of the County, Views of Gentlemen's Seats, &c. &c. Par sit Fortuna Labori. Cirencester: Printed by Samuel Rudder. 1779. Fol.

Title, one leaf; Dedication to Henry, Earl Bathurst, signed Samuel Rudder, one leaf; Preface, dated Dec. 1, 1778, and Addenda et Corrigenda, pp. v.-x. [In some copies, Postcript, dated April 3, 1783, pp. xi.-xii.]; Preliminary Matters, viz., Of Religious Foundations and Of Names of Places and Persons, Titles, Dignities, &c., pp. 1-18; Gloucestershire, [Its Physical Characteristics, Political Divisions, Trade and Manufactures, with lists of Sheriffs from 1154 to 1770 A.D., and of Knights of the Shire from 1547 to 1774 A.D.], pp. 19-64; Of the antient Survey of the Kingdom . . . as far as it relates to Gloucestershire, pp. 65-80; The History Of the City and Diocese of Gloucester, pp. 81-207; Of the Parishes in Gloucestershire [Abbenhall—Yate, alphabetically arranged], pp. 209-855; Appendix: Containing Grants, Charters and Confirmations . . . referred to in the Body of the Work, pp. i.-lii.; Index, pp. liii.-lxviii. The work is signed a—c; A—[10H2]; and a—[r_3]. O and Q are half-sheets and Z2 is repeated.

The Preface and pp. 1-855 are printed in double columns, in English type hair-leaded. There are 18 plates, all double-page in size except where otherwise stated in the following list. They are sometimes found mounted on guards, and sometimes folded.

List of Plates

The plate of New Mills is often wrongly placed, facing p. 425, on which there is a mention of a place called New Mills, near Dursley, "where Mr John Purnell has a beautiful house." Lowndes and Upcott have fallen into this error. New Mills, the subject of this plate, which was in Rudder's time the seat of Mr Thomas Baylis, is situate in the Slad Valley, near Stroud, and is mentioned on p. 714. It is engraved in Fisher's Notes & Recollections of Stroud, p. 216. At the foot of the Bibury plate there is the following notice: "Barrington Park, Sandiwell Park, Berkeley Castle, Highnam Court, New Mills, Rendcomb Park and This Print price 17s. 6d. the Set, or 3s. each Singly. Printed for and sold by T. Bonnor, No 36 Maiden Lane, Covent Garden, London, and to be had at Mr Fleys, College Green, Gloucester." And there is a notice to the same effect on the Highnam plate.

According to Upcott, pp. 617 & 618 are wrongly numbered 619 & 620, but though we have examined many copies, we have never seen one in which either of these errors occurs.

In some copies after the leaf paged 345, 346 is another leaf paged [345], [346]. In these copies the 4 pages numbered 345—[346] are on a new sheet which was supplied by Rudder to his subscribers in March, 1782 with a direction that it was to be substituted for the half-sheet, paged 345, 346 which was to be cancelled. The cancelled leaf contains a description of Roman remains at Cirencester, which is considerably amplified in the new sheet. Hence the letter-press on pp. 345, 346 in copies in which the pagination is consecutive, differs from that in the leaf bearing those numbers in copies in which the extra leaf [345] [346] is found. The explanation of the issue of the additional pages is given on page [346].

There was a later issue of the work which may be known by a Postscript to the Preface, [pp. xi.-xii.], dated April 3, 1783. In this issue the new sheet 345—[346] is always found. The Postscript was written in answer to an adverse criticism in which Rudder's history had been unfavourably compared with that of Sir Robert Atkyns. The critic, whom Rudder describes as "a reverend gentleman," was very possibly Fosbroke. Rudder, in the Postscript, gives a long list of errors which occur in Atkyns, and adds that more might be pointed out.

The scope of Rudder's History is sufficiently indicated by the title and collation. It is, as its author admits in the preface, to some extent founded on that of Sir Robert Atkyns. The descent of the manors is generally copied from Atkyns, often without any alteration in language. Rudder, however, claims that he has "avoided Sir Robert's errors and supplied his defects."

His work differs from that of Atkyns in the following particulars: He omits lists of incumbents, but he adds lists of benefactions, and the monumental inscriptions which he notices are generally given verbatim. His description of each parish is fuller, and his distances of villages from adjacent towns are more accurate. To the taxes for the years 1692-4 and the births and deaths in each parish, as given by Atkyns, he adds the land tax for 1770 and the births and deaths for the ten years ending 1779.

It is on the whole more complete and more accurate than Sir Robert Atkyns' great work, and as it brings the history of the county down to a later date, it will probably be found the more useful work of the two by the student. It lacks however the interest which Kip's quaint views give to the "Ancient and Present State of Glostershire."

Horace Walpole, in a letter to the Rev. W. Cole, written in Dec., 1779, says: "Have you seen Rudder's new 'History of Gloucestershire?' His additions to Sir Robert Atkyns make it the most sensible history of a county that we have had yet; for his description of the site, soil, products and prospects of each parish are extremely good and picturesque; and he treats fanciful prejudices, and Saxon etymologies when unfounded, and traditions, with due contempt."—Walpole's Letters, 1891, vol. vii., p. 298.

The production of the work occupied its author much longer than he anticipated. In a letter to a newspaper, unsigned, but dated from Lincoln's Inn, Dec. 16, 1776, several of the Subscribers to "A New History of the County of Gloucester" call on the Author to explain why his Work, which he engaged to perform more than 10 years ago, has not appeared. Rudder in his reply, dated Dec. 23, 1776, which apparently appeared in the St. James's Chronicle, informs his Subscribers that the non-appearance of his history "is solely to be attributed to the Publication of a literal Copy of Sir Robert Atkyns' Book some time after subscriptions for the New History were received. That copy was advertised at Two guineas. Till then, perhaps, the excessive price of the old Edition had operated in favour of the proposed New History." He adds that his work will certainly be published "some time next summer." Rudder's proposals to print were issued in Feb., 1767. Possibly it was their appearance which caused Herbert to reprint Atkyns' History; and his hurry to publish it, before the appearance of the New History, may account for the imperfect manner in which his work was done.

The tallest copy of the work seen measures 17½ × 10¼ inches. Its usual size is about 16¾ × 10¼. It was published at £2 10.

Mr Niblett's copy was sold in 1884 for £7 10s. At recent London book auctions the prices of presumably perfect copies have ranged from £4 2s. 6d. to £10 10s. An extra illustrated copy, bound in 2 vols., fetched £16 in 1888. Copies with the Postscript to the Preface commanded a higher price than those without it.

1781. The Contest. An Ode. [Quot.] 1781. sm. 4to. B.

Title, one leaf; The Contest, dated Tetbury, Jan. 24, 1781, pp. 3-11. From M.S. notes in the Bodleian copy it appears that the subject of this Ode was the contested election occasioned by the death of W. Bromby Chester, M.P. for Gloucestershire. The Candidates alluded to as B. and D. were Barrow and James Dutton, and the latter was elected.

Jenner in Stroud; S. Hayward in Cheltenham; Dyde and Son in Towkesbury; J. Lloyd and J. Norton in Bristol; D. Prince and J. Cooke, Oxford; and at Bull's and Marshall's Libraries in Bath. MDCCXCI. Fol.

This title never formed part of any completed work. It appeared with the first number of a Series of Etchings by Samuel Lysons, F.R.S., the publication of which extended over 12 years, and it was superseded by a new title on the completion of the work, which was finally presented to the public in 1803 as "A Collection of Gloucestershire Antiquities." q.v.

As far as is known no copy of the complete series of etchings in their original wrappers is extant, hence no collation of the work as a serial is possible; but some account of its progress between 1791 and 1795 can be given, and the growth of the "Antiquities" out of the "Etchings" can be partially traced. With each of the first eleven parts one leaf of descriptive letter-press was issued, by means of which the contents of each part may be inferred. In the following list the dates in brackets are the dates of publication. The date assigned for the appearance of each part is approximate, and has been gathered partly from the dates on the plates which it contains, and partly from notices and advertisements in the Gentleman's Magazine.

The following is copied from a wrapper of Pt. I., now in the possession of E. C. Sewell, Esq., of the Beeches, Cirencester:

"No. 1. (Price Five Shillings) Etchings of Views and Antiquities in the County of Gloucester, hitherto imperfectly, or never engraved, containing

1. A Vignette View of Gloucester from Robinhood's Hill.
2. Iron-Acton Cross.
3. Portrait of King Henry IV. in the chancel window at Iron-Acton.
4. Tomb of Robert Poyntz and Anne, his wife, in Iron-Acton Church.
5. Down-Amney Manor House.
6. Down-Amney Church.
7. Tomb of Sir Nicholas de Villers and his wife in Down-Amney Church.

Advertisement.

The Etchings, of which this Work is intended to be composed, were begun by the Editor for his Amusement, and as a Relaxation from the pursuit of a laborious Profession: Finding that they increased considerably under his Hands, and that he could make them with great Facility, a Desire of adding somewhat to the Topography of his native County has induced him to offer them to the Public in the present Form. A second part will be published on the 1st of August, and if the number of Copies sold should be sufficient to defray the Expenses of the Undertaking, he proposes to continue the Publication every three months, till it becomes sufficient to form a Volume, which, he flatters himself, will be thought no unacceptable Appendix to the Histories of Gloucestershire already published, and the Collections now publishing from the Papers of the late Garter King-at-Arms.* Herein he hopes to be able to comprise every remarkable Building or Piece of Antiquity within that County of which no Engraving, or only an imperfect one, has been hitherto published. With regard to the Designs he has only to say, that he has endeavoured to render them as accurate as possible; and has in no instance ventured to sacrifice Truth to Effect, his intention having been to give faithful Portraits of the Objects he wished to represent, and not picturesque views, unless he found them such. It should be remembered that the Plates are not the works of an Artist by Profession, and therefore not to be examined with too critical an eye.

As there are many curious Remains of Antiquity in the City of Bristol, hitherto wholly unpublished, and others which have been very inaccurately engraved, he proposes to insert Views of them in the present Collection; for though that City constitutes a County of itself, and has therefore never been treated of in the Histories of Gloucestershire, yet the greater part of it being commonly considered as lying within that County, he has thought it sufficiently connected with his Plan to make a part of it.

 The second number will contain, amongst other Views, those of Elkstone Church, the Inside of the Chancel, and the Doorway of that Church, Cirencester Cross, and Arlingham Church."

The Vignette of Gloucester from Robinswood Hill formed part of the title, and the other plates, numbered in this announcement [2 to 7], bore respectively the numbers I.-VI.

Parts I. and II. were noticed in the Gentleman's Magazine for August, 1791, at pp. 743, 4 where the Reviewer says "The Editor of this elegant work (we know not why) withholds his name at present from the publick; but we understand it to be the production of Samuel Lysons, Esq., F.S.A." And Part VII. was mentioned at p. 832 of the September number of that Magazine for 1793.

Part XII., which probably appeared in July, 1794, was accompanied by the following advertisement:—

"The Editor of this Work proposes to complete it in twenty-one numbers, the Thirteenth and Fourteenth of which will be published in the course of a few months: and he hopes that the remainder will be published before the end of the year 1796.

Several of the Plates already published will be etched afresh, and given in the remaining Numbers, the intended effect not having been produced in them. One of these, plate XXI.*, is included in the present number.

The short Descriptions intended to accompany the Plates will be given all together at the end of the Work, it having been frequently found inconvenient to adapt them to each separate Number."

The succeeding parts do not seem to have been advertised. This, together with the discontinuance of the letter-press, has made it impossible to ascertain either their number or composition, or the dates of their appearance. Their publication, however, lasted 7 years longer than their author anticipated. This no doubt arose from his increased dissatisfaction with his earlier work, which led to the cancellation of many more plates than he contemplated in 1794. Of the 64 plates which had then been issued, only 11 were ultimately deemed worthy of a place in the Antiquities. These were—

VIII. South Door of Elkstone Church.
XLIV. Door of South Cerney Church.
LII. East End of Library of Gloucester Cathedral.
LIII. Stone Stalls in Gloucester Cathedral.
LV. North and South Views of the Priory of Deerhurst.
LIX. Ozleworth and Cleeve Churches.
LX. East View of Cirencester Church.
LXI. Inside View of St. Catherine's Chapel in Cirencester Church.
LXII. Figures of Fonts.
LXIII. Hayles Abbey.
LXIV. Manor House at Iron Acton and St. Bartholomew's Hospital at Gloucester.

Three plates published after 1794, viz., Nos. LXVI., LXVIII., and LXXIV., were also subsequently cancelled. The total number of etchings published by Mr Lysons between 1791 and 1808 was 166, of which 56 were cancelled and 110 were included in the Antiquities.

If all of the matter deleted during the production of the Antiquities were collected in one volume, its collation would be as follows:—Title to Part I., one leaf; Inscription to the Right Honourable Henry, Earl Bathurst, one leaf; Descriptive letter-press to plates I.-LXIV., 11 leaves; Plates numbered I.-VII., IX.-XLIII., XLV.-LI, LIV., LVI.-LVIII., LXVI., LXVIII. and LXXIV.

The work sometimes advertised or catalogued as "Lysons's Etchings" usually comprises some of the cancelled matter, together with some of the plates or letter-press of the Antiquities. These volumes differ widely as to their contents, and care should be taken before purchasing one, to see that it comprises most of the cancelled plates. Many of these latter, as well as plates from the Antiquities, are often to be met with singly. Some of the substituted plates may be distinguished from those which they replaced by an asterisk appended to their number. But a more complete index to the identification of a cancelled plate is to be found in the position of its number, as all of the plates first issued (I.-LXIV.) had the number placed immediately over the plate at the right hand corner, while all of the plates issued subsequently were numbered over the centre of the plate. As has been said, the last 6, and 5 earlier ones, of these 64 plates were retained in the Antiquities. Therefore every plate bearing a number between 1 and 58 at the top right hand corner, except Nos. 8, 44, 52, 53 & 55, is a cancelled plate. But besides these there are 3 cancelled plates, viz., 66, 68 & 74, which are numbered in the centre. The plate substituted for No. 68 has an asterisk added to its number. The other two can only be known from the new plates by their subjects.

In order that the cancelled plates may be readily distinguished from those which were substituted for them, a list of both series has been given, side by side, in the collation of "A Collection of Gloucestershire Antiquities," 1803. q.v.

1791. Historical, Monumental and Geneological Collections, relative to the County of Gloucester; printed from the original papers of the late Ralph Bigland, Esq. Garter Principal King of Arms. London: Printed by John Nichols, For Richard Bigland, of Frocester, in the County of Gloucester, Esq. Son of the late Ralph Bigland, Esq. MDCCXCI. 2 vols. fol.

Vol. i.:—Title, with seal of Ralph Bigland, Esq., one leaf; Quotation, from Preface to Wartons' Specimen of a History of Oxfordshire, one leaf; Dedication "To the Most High Mighty and Most Noble Prince Charles Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshall" with the Duke's Arms as head-piece, and dated at end from "Frocester, Gloucestershire, November, 1786," one leaf; Preface by the late Ralph Bigland Esq., pp. vii.-viii.; History of 127 parishes, arranged alphabetically and numbered consecutively, commencing with I. Abbenhall, and ending with CXXVII. Guiting Militum Templi, or Temple Guiting, pp. 1-618, [B—7 X2]; Index of Hamlets, Tythings etc., pp. 619-620 [7Y]; Index of Arms in Churches, and affixed to Monumental Inscriptions, pp. 621-622 [7 Y2]; Index of Names on Monumental Inscriptions, pp. 623-631 [7Z—8B]; Directions for placing the detached plates in vol. i., on page 632.

The Monumental Inscriptions and the Historical Notes are printed partly in long primer and partly in pica type. The former are in columns.

The following errors in pagination occur:—The numbers 286, 287 are repeated on pages which should be numbered 288, 289. Hence vol. i. contains pp. 634. Pages 550, 551, 552, 565 and 566 are numbered respectively 350, 351, 352, 365 and 366.

The leaf paged 375-6 is sometimes found in duplicate, as the leaf first issued bearing those numbers was directed to be cancelled, and a new one was substituted for it. At the head of page 375 of both issues is a view of the South Porch of Cleeve Church. The cancelled plate was drawn by S. Lysons and engraved by T. Bonnor. In it a man holding two keys in his right hand is seen disappearing into the church, and bright rays of light, apparently from a lantern in his left hand, are seen behind his head. The substituted plate bears the inscription "S. Lysons fect. Aquâ forti 1720," and is in Lysons's early manner, resembling in style many of the plates issued in his "Etchings," and afterwards cancelled. There is no figure in this plate. The letterpress on the two leaves is slightly different. Unless the figure and arrangement of light were considered inartistic, it is not clear why the former plate was directed to be cancelled, as it was engraved by Bonnor, and is more in character with the other plates in the work than the new one.

All of the plates by Bonnor and Ravenhill are fine line engravings. They are at the same time faithful copies and pleasing pictures, though the beauty of some of them is sometimes slightly marred by ill drawn figures in the foreground.

Bound copies of vols. i. & ii. are usually about 16¾ × 10¼ inches in size. They were probably printed on demy fol. paper.

Mr. Niblett's copy, together with parts 1-8 of the Continuations, realized £23 in 1884. A copy [vol. i. complete and vol. ii. ending at Marshfield] was sold at Messrs Sotheby's in 1888 for £6 12s. 6d.

This work, though of great archæological value, does not fulfil the promise of its title. The historical notices of most of the parishes are meagre, and the genealogical portion was reserved for a separate volume which was never published. It consists therefore principally of monumental inscriptions, which are printed in long and short lines, as if they were verbatim transcripts; but these inscriptions were not always copied by Bigland's own hand, and the persons employed by him sometimes abbreviated them. It should be remembered that Bigland's aim was to supplement and not to supplant the works of Atkyns and of Rudder. In the course of making his collections, which extended over a period of 30 years, he at one time contemplated bringing out a revised and enlarged edition of Atkyns' Ancient and Present State of Glostershire, but the appearance of Herbert's edition of that work and of Rudder's New History of Gloucestershire obliged him to abandon this intention. He then determined to print his collections "as an Appendix to former Publications of the History of this County."

Almost all of the information contained in the two volumes under notice was collected by Mr. Ralph Bigland, and he also wrote the preface, and prepared the earlier portions of the work for press, but no part of it was printed in his lifetime. He died in 1784, and his son Richard with the assistance of the Rev. James Dallaway continued the work, and they brought the obituary notices down to the date of publication of the first part.

Vol. i. was issued in 22 parts. No complete series in original wrappers has been examined, but parts 6, 7, 8, 12, 13 and 15 of vol. i. and part 2 of vol. ii. have been seen in this state. Part 1, comprising Abbenhall—Alderton, appeared in 1786 [Gent. Mag., vol. lvi., p. 1062], with a title page of that date. Part 5, the contents of which are not stated, but which included Berkeley, was noticed in the same Magazine in 1788 [vol. lviii., p. 344] where the Reviewer says "We are glad that this splendid work meets with the encouragement which it so well deserves." The contents of the other parts seen were as follows: Part 6, Beverstone—Bisley; Part 7, Bitton—Bourton-on-the-Water; Part 8, Boxwell—Bulley; Part 12, Cirencester—Cleeve; Part 13, Clifford Chambers—Coln St Dennis; and Part 15, Daglingworth—Deerhurst. Hence part 14 must have comprised Coln Roger's—Cromhall. Part 20, comprising Fairford—Frampton Cotterel was out by April 1791 [Gent. Mag., vol. lxi., p. 345]; Part 7 comprised Lechlade, Leckhampton, The Leigh, Lemington, and Lydney [Gent. Mag., June 1793]; and Part 9 (the last part issued by Mr. Richard Bigland) comprised Moreton Henmarsh, Moreton Valence, Naunton and Newent, [Gent. Mag., Feb. 1795]. Further progress of the work was arrested by Mr. Richard Bigland's death and it was not re-commenced for many years. Hence the 21st part must have comprised Frampton-upon-Severn—Guiting Temple. The 22nd part comprised the Title-page to vol. i., the Quotation from Warton, the 3 plates of Arms, the Indices, Directions for placing the plates, and the substituted leaf with the view of the S. Porch of Bishops' Cleeve Church. This part was probably supplied to subscribers gratuitously. The other 21 parts were issued at 3s. each.

Part 1. of vol. ii. must have comprised Hampnett—Harescombe, as part ii. contained Haresfield—Hatherop.

The title page of this volume may have been issued with its first part, as it is dated 1791, the year in which that part probably appeared.

Certain errors in the work are pointed out in a letter signed "D.H." in the Gentleman's Magazine [vol. lxi., pp. 725-7]; and from a letter signed "Glevensis" in the same Magazine [vol. lxiii., p. 687] it would appear that the work had been elsewhere unfavourably reviewed.

The unpublished MSS., consisting almost exclusively of Monumental Notes, passed into the hands of Messrs. Nichols of Parliament St., Westminster. An attempt was made by them to continue, by subscription, the publication of the work, under the editorship of the Rev. T. D. Fosbrooke, but without success. Bigland's notes on the City of Gloucester were, however, published in a condensed form by Fosbrooke in his "Original History of the City of Gloucester," 1819, and most of the illustrations in that work are from plates which had been engraved for Bigland's History.

Messrs Nichols' attempt to obtain subscriptions for the continuation of Bigland's work seems to have been made about 1802-4, for on the wrapper of the Supplement to the Gent. Mag. for 1802 appeared the following advertisement "Biglands' Collections for Gloucestershire. Vol. I complete. Price Three Guineas in Boards. Or any single Number of Vol. II at 2s. 6d. each Number. This Work will be continued with all Convenient Speed, and due Notice given of the Mode in which the Remainder is intended to be published"

This advertisement was repeated in the same magazine in 1803 and 1804, but in November of the latter year the price of parts of vol. ii. was advanced to their original cost of 3s. each.

Nichols sold the Bigland MSS. to Sir Thomas Phillipps, who in or about the year 1838 caused to be privately printed at the Middle-hill press some 50 copies of the collections relating to 18 parishes from Newington Bagpath to Pauntley.

This part consisted of 32 leaves, folio, paged 253-316, and it was issued in boards without any title, lettering on cover, or list of parishes. The first leaf is signed Ttt. No other signatures occur. The catch word at the end of p. 316 is "CLXXXXVIIII Pebworth." The parishes it comprised, the number prefixed and the pages allotted to each parish are as follows:

CLXXXXVII.	Painswick	pp. 307-314.
CLXXXXVIII.	Pauntley	pp. 314-316.

This part was printed on poor paper, and copies of it are usually badly foxed. It was reprinted in 1886.

After this issue Sir Thomas Phillipps discontinued the work for a long period. He resumed it in 1870, when he commenced what has been called the second issue of the Bigland Continuations. Of this issue only two parts were printed at his death, which occurred in Feb., 1872. In these parts Bigland's historical notes were largely augmented by the labours of Sir Thomas and several of his friends.

Only a few copies of pts. 1 & 2 were printed. Pt. 2 ended with the parish of Rendcomb. By his will Sir Thomas entreated Mr. S. H. Gael, one of his executors, to continue the superintendence of the printing of the remaining parishes. Mr. Gael undertook the task, and in 1873 he issued a pamphlet, giving an account of the progress of the work up to that date, and inviting

There are woodcuts of Sevenhampton and Whittington Churches (the former repeated) and of Brasses in both Churches with the letter-press, and detached woodcuts of Willersey Church (full page) and Coscombe House, 1818, and of Campden House, the Seat of Sir Baptist Hickes temp. Chas. I. These plates are rough, cheap productions, quite unworthy of a book which contains the fine work of Bonnor and Ravenhill.

The sheet containing the parishes of Quedgeley and Queinton was superseded by a new sheet, supplied subsequently with Pt. 2. The catch word at the foot of p. 2 of the sheet first issued is "Queinton"; that on the same page of the new sheet, "CCVII, or 210.—Queinton." The half-page relating to Snowshill was also superseded by a new leaf supplied with Pt. 4.

On a slip inserted at the beginning of this part "Subscribers are informed that it is intended to issue later on a part containing the omitted parishes of St. Jacob & Philips, and St. George's Bristol, as well as an Index to the whole of the Continuation."

As only a few copies of the first issue of the Continuations, and of pts. i. & ii. of the second issue were printed by Sir Thomas Phillipps, they soon became scarce, and in order to enable subscribers to the succeeding parts to complete their series, Mr. Fitz Roy Fenwick issued the following reprints. Part I. was entitled, Biglands Gloucestershire Collections. Newington Bagpath to Pauntley. Sixty-five Copies privately printed for T. Fitz Roy Fenwick, M.A. Demy fol. F.A.H.

Title on wrapper and 32 leaves paged 253-316. The first leaf is signed Ttt. No other signatures occur. This part is an accurate reprint of the first issue. It was printed in 1885. Price £1 1s.

Parts II. & III. were issued together in the same wrapper, entitled Bigland's Gloucestershire Collections. Part II. Pebworth to Rendcombe. Part III. Saul. Seisencote Sevenhampton. Shurdington. Siddington. Snowshill. Stanley Pontlarge. Stanton. Stanway. Whittington. Willersley. Sixty-five copies privately reprinted for T. Fitz Roy Fenwick, M.A. Demy fol. F.A.H.

Title on wrapper, Text 32 leaves. Pagination irregular, commencing with p. 317 and ending with p. 773. There are no signatures.

These parts were printed in 1887. The subscription price of Part II. was 12s. 6d., and that of Part III. was 15s.

Part II. comprises all the parishes in Sir T. Phillipps' Part 2 of the second issue (1871), including the new edition of the parishes of Quedgley and Queinton. Part III. comprises all the parishes in Part 1 of the second issue (1870) except Saintbury and the cancelled accounts of Quedgley, Queinton and Snowshill. It also contains Saul, Seisencote and Siddington from Part 3 (1873) and Stanley Pontlarge and Stanway and the new edition of Snowshill from Part 4 (1877), and the addendum to Willersey from Part 8 (1885). No reason is assigned for this selection and re-arrangement of parishes.

Neither pagination nor numeration of the parishes always follows that of the original parts. The following is a full collation:—

This part contained the same woodcuts as appeared in Pt. 1. (1870).

Mr. Fenwick's reprints are a great improvement on the originals both as regards the quality of the paper on which they are printed, and freedom from typographical errors.

The Continuations contained no illustrations, except the woodcuts in Pt. 1, but 73 plates had been engraved before the death of Mr. Richard Bigland for illustrating the portion of his work which he did not live to complete. A few proofs of these were struck off on folio paper, and distributed with impressions of the plates which appeared in vols. i. & ii. Volumes containing the whole series of published and unpublished plates are occasionally to be met with, but they are very rare, and fetch from 6 to 10 guineas. In two of the copies which have been seen, there is one engraving on each page, but in most copies the smaller engravings are printed two on a page.

Twenty-nine of these plates were afterwards employed by Fosbrooke to illustrate his "Original History of the City of Gloucester," 1819, but he added the lettering to some, and altered it on others.

What became of the original copper plates is not known. Nichols, in whose possession they must have been in 1819 when he allowed Fosbrooke the use of them, did not hand them over to Sir T. Phillipps with the unpublished MSS. The last evidence of their existence is the appearance of the Berkeley Castle plate, as frontispiece to Fosbrooke's Berkeley Manuscripts, published in 1821.

Two other views which appeared in Fosbrooke's History of Gloucester are sometimes bound up with the above plates, viz.:—
"Gloucester Cathedral. Dr. and etched by J. C. Buckler. Pub. Jan. 1st. 1816"; and the "South Porch of Gloucester Cathedral. 1798 G. Rawl direxit," but the dates of these show that they could not have been prepared for Bigland's History. The latter will be found in a different state in Bonnor's Itinerary, p. 30, where it is stated to have been dr. and eng. by T. Bonnor and pub. Dec. 1st, 1806.
Some monuments in Tewkesbury Abbey, engraved by S. Wale in 1745, are also generally found with the above plates.
The plates of the churches, are with a few exceptions, of much the same size, the engraved portions of them measuring from 6¼ to 6¾ inches in length and from 4½ to 4¾ inches in depth.
Some of the plates used in the early part of the work have been met with in two states. Mr. H. W. Bruton has in his possession some of these which differ from the published plates in the following particulars.

	Mr. Bruton's plates	Published plates
AVENING CHURCH	A man between two horses in the foreground. Pl. signed T. Ravenhill.	A dog between two horses in the foreground. Pl. unsigned.
BEVERSTONE CHURCH	A Cow in left hand corner of foreground lying down.	A cow in left hand corner of foreground standing up.

1791. On a custom in Gloucestershire on Twelfth Day. Gent. Mag., Vol. 61, p. 16; Letter from John Elderton relating to Gloucester, Cheltenham, Cirencester, etc., Id. pp. 511-513.

The custom mentioned at p. 16 was the lighting of twelve small fires and one large fire in a wheat field, and placing a large cake on the horns of an ox.

[1792.] Proposals for publishing by subscription a Collection of Coats of Arms, Borne by the Nobility and Gentry of the County of Glocester. Taken from Atkins, Rudder and other Documents. s. sh. 4to. B.M.

It is stated that vol. i. is to be delivered Aug. 10, 1792. Price of Work £1 1s. This was the proposal for printing the following work.

—— A Collection of Coats of Arms Borne by the Nobility and Gentry of the County of Glocester [Vignette] London, Printed and Sold by J. Good, 159, New Bond St. MDCCXCII. 4to. F.A.H.

Title, one leaf; Introduction, pp. 1-34; List of Arms, borne quarterly per pale, and on an Escutcheon of Pretence; collected from Rudder's History of Glocestershire, pp. 35-49; Coats of Arms (370), eng. by Ames of Bristol, 62 leaves, printed and paged on one side only. List of Subscribers, 3 leaves (paged 3-7). The Introduction is printed in Great Primer, extra wide leaded. At the head of the Introduction are engravings of two seals of the City of Glocester. The Arms are given in two series, arranged in each alphabetically, the first commencing with the arms of Abenhall of Abenhall on p. 1, and ending with those of Yate of Arlingham on p. 53; the second commencing with the arms of Abercherder on p. 54 and ending with those of Cassey of Deerhurst on p. 62. There are six coats of Arms on every page except p. 53, on which there are four. On a slip inserted before the Introduction it is announced that "The Second Volume will be published as soon as possible." This volume was never issued. The work was compiled by Sir George Naylor, who became, in 1821, Garter Principal King of Arms. The 49 pages of letterpress are sometimes wanting.

1800. Cheltenham Spa, or The Muse in Gloucestershire. By Thomas Horde, Esq. Author of several other productions. (Quots.) Evesham pr. and sold by John Agg; sold . . . by the Author, at Stow on the Wold, Gloucestershire. Price One-Shilling. 1800. 8vo. F.E.B-W.

Title and Text, pp. 24.

The following towns and villages are described in doggerel rhymes: Stow on the Wold, Maugersbury, Upper and Lower Swell, Eyford, Cheltenham, Winchcomb, Batsford, Guiting, Sherborn, Barrington, Oddington, Daylesford, Addlestrop, Broadwell, and Longborough. This rare tract, with its supplement, gives a good deal of out of the way and interesting information about the villages described and their residents.

Horde was also the author of The Muse's Review and Farewell (Shipston, pr. by T. Smith); Damon and Phœbe; Disappointed Villany; The Female Pedant; Intrigue in a Cloyster; The Whimsical Seranade and other farces. These were published between 1774 and 1785. Damon and Phœbe was printed at Oxford by W. Jackson and J. Lister, and sold by them and "by the Author at the Grammar School, at Stow-on-the-Wold, Gloucestershire."

[After 1800.] The County Supplement. A Poem. By the Author of Cheltenham Spa, The Muses Review and Farewell, and many other Dramatic, as also Divine Performances, Thomas Horde, Esq. (Quot.) Shipston: pr. by T. Smith . . . . Sold by the Author, Stow-on-the-Wold, Gloucestershire. 8vo. F.E.B-W.

Title and Ded. to . . . . Fr . . . . Esq., B . . . . . d, 2 leaves; Text, pp. 5-24.

This is a Supplement to the Cheltenham Muse, and is in the same style. The following villages are described: Bourton on the Water, Naunton, Notgrove, Turk Dean, Clapton, Upper and Lower Slaughter, Eyford, Icomb, Bleddington, Moreton in Marsh, Bourton-on-the-Hill, & Seizincote. The Dedication is probably to Thomas Edwards Freeman, Esq., of Batsford.

1800. George Ridler's Oven: A right famous old Glocestershire Ballad. Corrected according to the Fragments of a Manuscript Copy found in the Speech House, in the Forest of Dean, several Centuries ago, and now revived, to be sung at the Anniversary and Monthly Meetings of the Glocestershire Society a Charitable Institution held at the Crown and Anchor Tavern, in the Strand, London. 9 verses of four lines. s. sh. fol. W.P.

At the head of the sheet—A Copper Plate engraving and designed by T. Bonnor, entitled Date Obolum. A woman with two children holding a scroll on which is inscribed "Gloucestershire Society, Instituted London MDCCLXX. Patron His Royal Highness, Prince William of Glocester. 1800. Stewards Capt: Morris, Saml. Whitcombe Esq."

This Song was repeatedly reprinted, but most of the editions are undated. There are many copies in the Chestal Library, comprising one n. d. in black letter, one dated 1796, with Bonnor's head piece, and others n. d. printed respectively by John Gutch, of Bristol; W. Senior, 161 Regent St.; T. Wallis, Camden Town; and I. W. Peel, New Cut, Lambeth. These are all in the Folio Album No. 61.

It is said to have been a royalist song written at the time of the foundation in 1651 of a Gloucestershire Society which met in Bristol. See N. & Q., Ser. 3, vol. iv., p. 210. If it has any political allusions they are very obscure. It was reprinted in N. & Q., Ser. 1, vol. iv., pp. 311-2.

Vol. ii.:—Title, one leaf; Index of Parishes and Hamlets in vol. ii., General Index and Index of Pedigrees, 3 leaves; Emendations and Corrections of vol. ii. and Errata, 4 leaves [a—a4]; History, pp. 1-539 [B—3Z2]; Directions to Binder, one leaf; Advertisement of an Appendix, one leaf; [The Appendix, viz.] Origin and History of the Manners and Customs of the Inhabitants of Gloucestershire, pp. 1-32 [B—F2]; Subscribers, 2 leaves. The work is printed in Old Style English type, leaded. It is on thin paper, and is an indifferent specimen of typography. Besides the plates mentioned in the Directions to the Binder are two with two subjects on each: viz. (1) "The Body of Q. Cath. Parr" and "From the Oddington Barrow" and (2) "Windows in Haresfield and Cheltenham Churches. T. D. F. sculp." At the end of the Directions it is stated that "The ancient Seats from Sir Rob. Atkins and the View of Horsley Jail are to be deleted." The plates referred to are four in number, and comprise (1) Berkeley Church and Castle, and New Jail at Horsley; (2) "Alderley late Mrs Hale," and "Knole late Thos. Chester Esq.; (3) "Alveston late Edward Hill Esq." and "Over late John Dowell Esq." and (4), Alveston, Battesford, Shurdington and Barrington. All of the views on pl. (4) are in out-line. Copies with the deleted plates and the appendix are scarce. The work was issued in 10 parts comprising fifteen numbers. Nos.

The cancelled plates vary considerably in style and in excellence. Some closely resemble sepia drawings [e.g. pls. 34, 35 & 46]; others are little more than outlines, so faint that they might be taken for pencil sketches [e.g. pls. 24, 28 & 41]; while others are darkly shaded in bold thick lines, like chalk drawings [e.g. pls. 26, 29 & 49] and the chiaro-oscuro of one [pl. 54] recalls some of the works of Piranese.

The plates in the Antiquities on the other hand, are more uniform in style, more highly finished, and of more equal merit. In these Lysons's manner somewhat approximates that of Bonnor, whom he seems to have imitated, but he never approaches Bonnor in delicacy of execution, though he always exceeds him in boldness. From an architectural point of view these plates are perhaps more valuable, but many of them have less character than the plates which they superseded. Why Lysons cancelled plate 14, [Cirencester Church], it is difficult to say, as it is artistically one of his finest productions. This work was issued at £6 6s., but it has not maintained its price. This may arise from the fact that copies are rarely to be met with that are not badly foxed. The following prices have been realized at public sales in London:—£2 10s. (1886); £1 8s., £2 9s., and £2 15s. (1887); £1 16s. and £1 9s. (1892). The late Mr Niblett's copy, which was bound up with all of the cancelled plates, sold, in 1884, for £10 10s.

[and other London Booksellers] 1807. 2 vols. 4to.

Vol. i.:—Half Title, Title and Dedication to W. H. Yate Esq., 3 leaves; Preface, 4 leaves [a—b]; Index of Parishes and Hamlets in vol. i., General Index, Index of Pedigrees and Emendations and Corrections of vol. i., 6 leaves; Errata [in vol. i.], one leaf; Introduction. pp. 1-4 [B—B2]; History, pp. 5-501 [B2—3S3].

Vol. ii.:—Title, one leaf; Index of Parishes and Hamlets in vol. ii., General Index and Index of Pedigrees, 3 leaves; Emendations and Corrections of vol. ii. and Errata, 4 leaves [a—a4]; History, pp. 1-539 [B—3Z2]; Directions to Binder, one leaf; Advertisement of an Appendix, one leaf; [The Appendix, viz.] Origin and History of the Manners and Customs of the Inhabitants of Gloucestershire, pp. 1-32 [B—F2]; Subscribers, 2 leaves. The work is printed in Old Style English type, leaded. It is on thin paper, and is an indifferent specimen of typography. Besides the plates mentioned in the Directions to the Binder are two with two subjects on each: viz. (1) "The Body of Q. Cath. Parr" and "From the Oddington Barrow" and (2) "Windows in Haresfield and Cheltenham Churches. T. D. F. sculp." At the end of the Directions it is stated that "The ancient Seats from Sir Rob. Atkins and the View of Horsley Jail are to be deleted." The plates referred to are four in number, and comprise (1) Berkeley Church and Castle, and New Jail at Horsley; (2) "Alderley late Mrs Hale," and "Knole late Thos. Chester Esq.; (3) "Alveston late Edward Hill Esq." and "Over late John Dowell Esq." and (4), Alveston, Battesford, Shurdington and Barrington. All of the views on pl. (4) are in out-line. Copies with the deleted plates and the appendix are scarce. The work was issued in 10 parts comprising fifteen numbers. Nos.

1-5 were issued separately. Pt. 6 comprised Nos. 6, 7, 8 and 9; Pts. 7 and 8 comprised Nos. 10, 11, 12 and 13; and Nos. 14 and 15 were issued separately as pts. 9 and 10 respectively. The title on the wrapper of Part I. was as follows: "Number I. The History of Gloucestershire. By Walter Honeywood Yate, Esq. of Bromsberrow-Place, Member of the Royal Institution, &c. and Thomas Dudley Fosbrooke, F.S.A. Purchasers of this Number must be considered as Subscribers to the Whole Work—Vide Proposals. Printed at the Herald Office, Glocester." In a slip inserted in this number it is stated that "Mr. Yate (who is of a friendly and affectionate temper) does me the honour, from pure disinterested motives, of undertaking the biographical department, some particulars of which will, it is hoped, consist of matter which has not been edited. He will also contribute such incidental and genealogical matter as he may be able by private and other sources to procure." As Mr Yate's name disappears from the title of the completed work, and no mention is made of him in the preface, it may be inferred that his share in it was not large. The Work is however dedicated to him "as a testimony of his friendship and services." On a slip inserted in Number 9 it is stated that in order to terminate the work in 6 numbers more, the type in long parishes has been abbreviated and 3 sheets added. Mr Fosbrooke in this note complains bitterly that he has been denied access to the Rolls Chapel except on payment of fees, so high as to be prohibitive, and he attributes any imperfections in his work to such refusal. In an Advertisement it was stated that the Appendix would comprise 6 numbers; and a note on a slip, dated Aug. 11, 1809, commences "Mr Fosbrooke having concluded the last number of his Appendix cannot dismiss this Work" etc. None the less it is believed that the whole appendix issued comprised only one part, consisting of 32 pages and a reprint of the list of Subscribers which accompanied Number 15 of the Work, as "The End" is printed after the letterpress on p. 32. The following note appeared on a slip inserted in Number 15 (the 10th and last supplied to the Subscribers):

"Mr Fosbrooke, having concluded the last Number of his Appendix, cannot dismiss this Work without making due acknowledgements to the Subscribers. He did, however, entertain a hope, that from having compiled a work de novo, in the most difficult walk of literature, and encountered the slander incident to such publications, that he should have obtained a permanent recompense, which he had endeavoured to deserve. He is sorry, however, to state, that whatever obligations he may feel to particular Gentlemen of the first respectability and station, upon his proposal of an application to the Chancellor, for a Living, he has not yet obtained the adequate support. He therefore respectfully requests that such Gentlemen as may be disposed to encourage such a proposal, will honour Mr. F. with their permission to use their names, for forwarding to the proper sources. Horsley, July 11, 1809. ☞ In the last Suppl. of the Monthly Magazine is a Review, in which the merits of the work are exhibited."

Some L. P. copies were issued. The 3 copies sold at the Niblett sale, realized respectively £6 15s., £5 5s., and £4 12s. Between 1887 and 1893 copies have been sold at public auctions at prices ranging between £1 13s. and £6 6s. L. P. copies, especially if they have the Appendix and deleted plates, are seldom to be had for less than 5 guineas.

The author of this history was born in 1770 and died in 1842. He was curate of Horsley, Gloucestershire, from 1792—1810. He then went to Walford, Herefordshire, of which he was Curate until 1830, and Vicar from 1830 till his death. He was also author of the History of the City of Gloucester, 1819, 4to and fol.; Abstracts of Smyth's Lives of the Berkeleys, 1821, 4to; A Picturesque Account of Cheltenham, 1826, 8vo; and other topographical and archæological works. He was an antiquary of some eminence. Between 1807 and 1819 he changed the spelling of his name from Fosbrooke to Fosbroke. Besides the works on which his name appears, he is said to have been the Author of "Poetical Essays by a Young Gentleman of the University. Oxford: 1786," 8vo, pp. 44, and also of a Periodical, now very rare, entitled "The Cosmopolitan. A Miscellany. By Gentlemen of the University of Oxford. London." Four numbers of the latter appeared on April 15 and 30, and May 15 and 30, 1788 respectively, which were sold at 3d. each, and comprised together 78 pages. Probably no more were issued.

This work is well printed on good paper in the following type: The Historical Introduction in Long Primer, leaded; Notes in Bourgeois, solid; and Text and Appendix in Small Pica, wide leaded. The ordinary copies are post 4to, and the Large Paper copies, printed on superior paper, are medium 4to. The plates are often foxed. The Historical Introduction (a valuable contribution to county history) was written by the Rev. John Webb, author of Memorials of the Civil War in Herefordshire and the Adjacent Counties. The portrait of Massey is copied from a print at p. 73 of Ricraft's Survey of England's Champions, London, 1647.

The work was issued to Subscribers in 3 parts. Parts I & II at 10s. 6d. each, and Part III at 21s. L. P. Copies, Pts I & II at 21s., and Pt III at 42s. The title to Part I was as follows—"Bibliotheca Gloucestrensis: a Collection of Scarce and Curious Tracts, relating to the County and City of Gloucester; illustrative of and published during the Civil War; with Biographical and Historical Remarks. Part the First. Washbourn and Son, Gloucester; and Charles Baldwyn, Newgate St, London. MDCCCXXIII." This part comprised Col. Massey's Portrait, Title (as above) and Corbet's Historicall Relation with Titles and Memoir, pp. i.-viii. and 1-152.

Part II appeared in the same year as Part I, and the title was similar except that "Part the Second" was substituted for "Part the First." The Device of Col. W. Cooke formed the frontispiece, and it comprised pp. 153-324. The following circular was issued with it:—

Bibliotheca Gloucestrensis. Part II.

The Editor to the Subscribers.

On the publication of the second part, the Editor takes the opportunity of announcing to the Subscribers, that the third and concluding portion is in the Press, and will, he trusts, be ready for delivery in May. It will contain several rare Tracts, and an Historical Introduction, in which is embodied much original matter extracted from manuscripts in the British Museum and Bodleian Library, and derived from other sources which have hitherto been withheld from the Public: at the same time presenting a complete chronological view of the facts which form the subject of the different Tracts contained in the Work.

A General Title and Index will also be added, and a complete List of the Subscribers, who have, by their patronage so liberally sanctioned the humble efforts of The Editor.

Gloucester. December 27. 1823.

Part III. appeared in 1825, and the title was that of the completed work, already given. It comprised pp. i.-ccv. and pp. 325-456, with Geographical View of Gloucestershire as frontispiece. It also contained the following announcement and Directions to the Binder.

The Editor to the Subscribers

In consequence of the great increase of matter this Part of the Work contains, (comprising more than double the quantity of letter press than both the preceding portions taken together, and equalling in size,) the Editor has been reluctantly obliged to advance the price.

He begs to state as a reason for this advance, that he did not feel himself warranted in giving the Work in a less perfect state; or in withholding from his Friends and the Public any information that he had in his power to lay before them upon so interesting a period of the History of Gloucestershire: and that, when he commenced the publication, he had no reason to anticipate that he should have been enabled to bring together such a mass of information so various and important, as he trusts will be found in this volume. The Editor

Gloucester May 7. 1826.

This election was remarkable for the defeat of Mr Granville Berkeley, notwithstanding the support of the Earl of Fitzhardinge, whose influence in the Western Division had hitherto been dominant. Mr Grantley Berkeley had, with his brother, Lord Fitzhardinge's approval, held the seat since 1832, but in 1847, owing to a quarrel between the brothers, Mr Granville Berkeley was nominated in the Berkeley Castle interest. The poll was declared on Aug. 7, with the following result:

Mr Blagden Hale . . .	4240 votes
Mr Grantley Berkeley . . .	2744 "
Mr Granville Berkeley. . .	2121 "

Twenty of these Sketches were published separately, price 1d. (double-numbers 2d.), under the title "Gloucestershire Tracts"; and were issued quarterly. The first appeared Jan. 1861 and the last Oct. 1865. A Second Edition with 11 new sketches, (including Lucius, Whittington, Dowry, Sarton, Gregory, Drewett, Keble, and Richard of Cirencester) was begun in 1866 and finished in 1867. These were then reprinted and published under the title "Good and Great Men of Gloucestershire." The price to Subscribers was 5s. plain or 5s. 6d. gilt and to Non Subscribers 7s. or 7s. 6d. Only 600 copies were printed and these were all sold before the end of the year. To meet a further demand a few complete sets of the 31 Gloucestershire Tracts (separately paged) were bound in cloth with the following title:

"Good and Great Men of Gloucestershire. Fides Invicta Triumphat. A Series of Biographical Sketches; By Joseph Stratford, Cirencester Contents: . . . (List of the subjects of the Memoirs, 31 in all) Cirencester: C. H. Savory, Bookseller, Steam Press, St John Street." It contained the following engravings: Facsimile of page in Tyndale's Bible (between pp. 2, 3 of "Wm. Tyndale"); Highbury Chapel, Bristol, (on p. 4 of "Wm. Sarton"); Choir of Gloucester Cathedral (on p. 4 of "Jas. Forbes"); John Roberts' House, (on p. 4 of "John Roberts"); Portrait of Robert Raikes (on p. 4 of "Robert Raikes"); Elberton (on p. 4 of "Jos. Sturge"); Ancient Seal of Cirencester, (on p. 16 of "Richard of Cirencester.")

The first English translation appeared in 1610. q.v.

—— God's Warning to his People of England: By the great Overflowing of the Waters, or Floudes, lately hapned in South-wales, and many other Places. Wherein is described the great losses and Wonderfull damages that hapned thereby: by the Drowning of many Towns and Villages to the vtter vndooing of many thousands of People. [Woodcut of a ship]. At London printed for W. Barley, and Io. Bayly, and are to be solde in Gratious street. 1607. sm. 4to. B.

Pp. 16 including title. Black letter. On the back of the title is a curious woodcut of the floods and the same is repeated on p. 16.

Mention is made of the damage at Bristol, Aust, and the county between Bristol and Gloucester, where "many goodly buildings were much defaced and many of them carried quite away: besides many other great losses of al kinde of corne and grayne, and cattle that were then lost."

See Harl. Misc., vol. viii. (1746) catalogue p. 4.

[1607.] More Strange Newes: Of wonderfull accidents hapning by the late ouerflowings of Waters, in Summerset-shire, Gloucestershire, Norfolke, and other places of England: with a true Relation of the Townes names that are lost, and the number of persons drowned, with other reports of accidents that were not before discouered: happening about Bristow and Barstable. "Of Gloucestershire," on B2 recto.

"Bristow," B4 recto—C verso.

"The miraculous Deliuerie of a gentleman from death [between Bristol and Barnstaple] . . . C verso.

On the first page is a list headed "These thirtie Townes and Villages in the West Country are vtterly ouerflowed, and their Cattell destroyed." . . . The only place in Gloucestershire in this list is St. George. It is stated on B2 recto that "the Sea rushed in at a place called Kingsrode, deuouring with his waues all the Flat betweene that and Ause [Aust] being ten miles in length, ouerwhelming houses, destroying people & swallowing up whole heards of Cattell in great numbers."

The date, 1607, is on the cover of the Bristol Museum copy. This is another account of the floods described in "God's Warning to his people."

A part of this tract, from "Newes out of Summersetshire" to the end, was printed separately, the same year, (1607), under the title, "A true report of certaine wonderfull ouerflowings of Waters," with the woodcut "Behold the miserable estate . . ." on front of title. It was also reprinted in 1884.

It was held in this case that the provision in 1 & 2 Vict. c. 43 that a galee must so work his gale, as not to impede the working of gales which have been previously granted, applies only when he has reached his gale, and does not preclude him from sinking a shaft through overlying works.

1866. Iron Making in the Olden Times: as instanced in the Ancient Mines, Forges, and Furnaces of the Forest of Dean, historically related, on the basis of contemporary records and exact local investigation: also "The Book of Dennis," now first transcribed from the oldest existing M.S., with Notes. By Rev. H. G. Nicholls, M.A., Author of "An Historical and Descriptive Account of the Forest of Dean," and "The Personalities of the Forest of Dean." London . . . Coleford: Charles Cooper Hough. 1866. 8vo. W.B.

1872. George Morgan and others v. Henry Crawshay. L.R., E. & I. App. vol. v., pp. 304-320.

It would seem from this case that galees of mines in the Forest of Dean are liable to be rated as occupiers for poor rate. Lord Chelmsford said that the interest of a galee under 24 & 25 Vict. c. 40, is in the nature of real estate, and capable of occupation.

1872. Return to an Order . . . [of the House of Commons of March 5, 1872] of the following particulars relating to H.M. Forest of Dean . . .
(1) Gross Annual Revenue . . . [distinguishing Rents of Houses, etc.] from the Surface . . .
(2) Gross Annual Revenue from Mines . . .
(3) Quantity of Land Enfranchised under 1 & 2 Vict. c. 42.
(4) Quantity of Land sold in each Year since . . . [1838] and the Amount received in each Year for the same, exclusive of Abbots Wood Sale.
(5) Quantity of Land occupied by the Deputy Surveyor . . .
(6) The present estimated extent (expressed in Acres) of the entire Area of the Forest, exclusive of all Land, the Soil of which does not now belong to Her Majesty. Fol. B.M.

Pp. 6. The estimated area was 18,357 acres.

1873. Ellway v. Davis. L.R. Eq. vol. xvi., pp. 294-8.

It was decided in this case that if a free miner, who holds 3 gales, surrenders one of them on the ground that there is not coal enough in it to work at a profit, he can claim another gale under 1 & 2 Vict. c. 43, sec. 61.

1874. In re Brain L.R. 18 Eq. vol. xviii., pp. 389-410.

This case relates to forfeiture to the Crown of a gale for non-performance of the conditions upon which the grant was made.

—— Return showing the Number of Free Miners in the Forest of Dean actually on the Register on the 1st day of Jan., 1874 and the Number on the Register on the 1st day of April 1875, with an estimate of the Number of those on the Register who are supposed to have Died or left the District. s. sh. fol. B.M.

Number on Jan. 1, 1874, 1176; Number on Ap. 1, 1875, 1604; Number who had died etc., 630.

—— Report from the Select Committee On Dean Forest; together with the Proceedings of the Committee, Minutes of Evidence, and Appendix Ordered by the House of Commons to be Printed 10 June 1874. Fol. Pp. i.-xvi. & 1-214.

1876. Ross and Another v. Ruegge-Price. L.R. Ex. Div., vol. i., pp. 269-276.

It was held in this case that the specific remedy provided by 1 & 2 Vict. c. 43 sec. 29 (which regulates the use of adjoining mines in the Forest of Dean) for enforcing rules, does not exclude the right of action for injuries caused by breach of such rules.

1877. James v. The Queen. L.R. Ch. Div., vol. v., pp. 153-162.

It was here decided that if a free-miner who has made an application for a gale, dies before the gale has been actually granted, the grant cannot be made to his devisees if they are not free-miners.

1878. The Laws of the Dean Forest and Hundred of Saint Briavels, in the County of Gloucester. WORKS RELATING TO THE FOREST OF DEAN

PART II. — ACTS OF PARLIAMENT

8 Hen. VI. c. 27. A remedy for the inhabitants of Tewkesbury in the county of Gloucester against the commonalty of the forest of Dean . . . to prevent future robberies and Injuries in the navigation of the Severn.

[8 Car. II.] c. 32. An Act for repealing grants made by the late King for dissolution of the Forest of Dean and for mitigating the rigour of the Forest Laws within the same.

This Act empowered owners and occupiers of lands within the Forest to cut timber; it revoked grants of lands by Charles I. to Sir John Wintour, John Gibbon, John Mansel and Ambrose Babin; it annulled all Charters for the sale of lands within the Forest, and restored the Demesne Woods and Wastes to the same state as they were in in 20 James I.

20 Car. II. c. 3. An Act for the increase and Preservation of Timber within the Forest of Dean.

36 Geo. III. c. 131. An Act for amending, widening, improving and keeping in Repair, several Roads in and through His Majesty's Forest of Dean, and the Waste Lands thereto belonging, in the County of Gloucester and for turning altering and changing the course of the said Roads, and for making several new Roads in the said Forest to lead to certain places in and near the same; and also for amending, widening, and keeping in Repair, certain Roads leading from the said Forest to and through several Parts of the Parish of Newland, adjoining the said Forest, and also leading from the Bottom of a Place called the Viney Hill in the said Forest, to and through certain parts of the Parishes of Lidney and Awre, adjoining the said Forest, in the said County of Gloucester.

48 Geo. III. c. 72. An Act for the Increase and Preservation of Timber in Dean and New Forests.

49 Geo. III. cap. clviii. An Act for making and maintaining a Railway or Tram Road from the Summit of the Hill above Churchway Engine, in the Forest of Dean, in the County of Gloucester, to a certain Place in the said Forest called Cinderford Bridge.

49 Geo. III. cap. clix. An Act for making and maintaining a Railway from the River Wye, at or near to a Place called Lidbrook, in the Parish of Ruardean, in the County of Gloucester, to or near to a Place called the Lower Forge, below Newern, in the Parish of Lydney in the said County, and for making other Railways therein mentioned in the Forest of Dean.

50 Geo. III. cap. cxxiii. An Act for making and maintaining a Railway from Howler Slade, in the Forest of Dean, in the County of Gloucester, to the Town of Monmouth; and for making other Railways therein mentioned, in the Counties of Gloucester and Monmouth.

50 Geo. III. cap. ccxv. An Act to alter and amend the Lidney and Lidbrook Railway Act, to vary certain Parts of the said Railway, and to extend the same from Lidbrook to Bishop's Wood, and from the Lower Forge to the Cross Pill, and for making a Bason & Canal to communicate with the River Severn at Nass Point.

57 Geo. III. cap. lxvi. An Act to amend and continue . . . [36 Geo. III. c. 131].

59 Geo. III. c. 86. An Act for . . . the better Collection and Recovery of the Gale Rents in the Forest of Dean.

7 Geo. IV. cap. xlvii. An Act for maintaining an existing Public Railway from the Summit of the Hill, above Churchway Engine in the Forest of Dean to Cinderford Bridge, and for making public a private Railway from thence to the River Severn at or near Bullo-Pill, and for amending . . . —— Sept. 13. Good newes from all quarters of the Kingdome, Particularly from Gloucester. The more strange for the Noveltie; first Printed, and at that time when the Adversary was Storming that Citie; and yet most strange, from its Antiquitie, because assured us by a Word more stable than the earth or heaven; and by a letter of ancient date sent to Hezekiah King of Judah. We have the same assurance also touching a strange destruction to the wicked, specially to those Princes all, who have filled the land with bloud, that those shall not dye the Common death, nor be visited after the visitation of all men, because they have done more wickedly than ever any Princes before them. The sober Reader will heare all this and feare, and yet be glad with exceeding joy. But the hearing of this, will vex and fret to the heart the Poet, and the Court Mercury [the Author has a saying here to both these notorious knaves] and will render them most notorious lyars, and make them and such furious fooles storme like madmen . . . Ps. 89. 12. . . . Ps. 55. 16-18. . . . This account of the siege of Gloucester is of extreme historical value, and, despite the obvious bias of its author against the royalists, the narrative may be considered as trustworthy.

John Corbet [b. 1620, d. 1680] was the son of a Shoemaker of Gloucester where he was born and educated. He took orders and became Incumbent of St Mary de Crypt Church. He was chaplain to Colonel Massey during the siege of Gloucester. He took part in a disputation with Robert Bacon in Gloucester Cathedral on the subject of "Close Antinomianism" while the City was surrounded by the enemy. After the Restoration he was ejected for nonconformity. He died in 1680, and his funeral sermon was preached by his intimate friend, Richard Baxter. This sermon "With his True Memoir and Exemplary Character" [pp. 36] was printed in 1682, and reprinted in Baxter's Practical Works 1707, vol. iv., pp. 911-920, and 1830, vol. xviii., pp. 161-192.

He was the author of a curious little tract entitled "Self Employment in Secret" published one year after his death. This was reprinted, with a memoir of Corbet by G. W. Counsell, in 1833, 1835 and n.d. Biographical Notices will also be found in Baxter's Biographical Collections, 1st. ed., 1766, vol. i., pp. 150-170; and 2nd ed. (called Christian Biography), 1768, vol. i., pp. 150-170; Good & Great Men of Gloucestershire, pp. 145-156; and Dict. Nat. Biog., vol. xii., pp. 201-2, where a list of Corbet's works will be found. It is said that he assisted in the compilation of Rushworth's Historical Collections.

1656. To His Highness the Lord Protector, &c. And to the Parliament of England. sm. 4to. B.M.

Frontispiece, Letter from Chidley, Postcript, and Letters to Chidley, 4 leaves. The frontispiece represents the destruction of Withcomb Church, Devon, by lightning, October 21, [?] 1656. Chidley's letter is a protest against church steeples as idolatrous. The Postcript is as follows:—"Being informed that the Parliament is about to establish the Cathedral of Gloucester to be used as a place of publick Worship; and knowing that God will have such places utterly rooted out: In discharge of my conscience I have here published the following Letter, which hath layn by me divers years. Dated from Gloucester, the 24 day of the 11 Month 1652, and directed to me." This letter describes what the writer alleges he saw in Gloucester Cathedral "wherein doth still remain most abominable provocations to superstitious Worship."

1659. A Declaration of the City and County of Gloucester . . . See ante, p. 9.

165⅞. Reasons inducing the Equity and Justice of Mr Pury's Petition in Parliament . . . London, Printed in the year 1659. s. sh. fol. B.M.

Mr Pury's petition alleged certain irregularities on the part of the Sheriffs at a recent parliamentary election in the City of Gloucester, at which he had been a candidate. The reasons are printed in the form of a petition to be signed by Mr Pury's supporters. It is dated Jan. 17, 1658.

1666. More News from Rome: or Magna Charta, Discoursed of between a Poor Man & his Wife. As also A New Font erected in the Cathedral-Church at Gloucester, in October, 1663, and consecrated by the Reverend moderate Bishop, Dr William Nicholson, Angel of the said Church, according to the account of that infamously famous Man, Dr Lee . . . Imprinted at London for the Author, for the only benefit of his Wife and Children, Anno. 1666, when time shall come. sm. 4to. B.

Title and Epistle Dedicatory, 4 leaves; A Discourse &c., pp. 1-40. An attack by a nonconformist on certain doctrines of the Church of England, singling out the "mystical body" of the church for special ridicule. Not more scurrilous than most of the controversial literature of the day.

1668. Room for the Cobler of Gloucester and His Wife: With several Cartloads of Abominable Irregular, pitiful stinking Priests: As also A Demonstration of their Calling after the manner of the Church of Rome; but not according to Magna Charta, the Rule of the Gospel. Whereunto is Added, A Parallel Between the Honour of a Lord Bishop, and the Honour of a Cobler; the Cobler being proved the more Honourable Person. Printed for the Author, 1668. sm. 4to. C.H.D.

Title, one leaf; Epistle Dedicatory, one page; Room for the Cobbler, pp. 4-40. Signed, "Ralph Wallis." Less argumentative and more scurrilous than "More News from Rome." It consists chiefly of alleged instances of Romish teaching and disorderly behaviour on the part of the Anglican clergy.

1670. The Life and Death of Ralph Wallis, The Cobler of Glocester: Together with some inquiring into the Mystery of Conventicleism. "Miscemus multis seria multa jocis." London, Printed by E. Okes, for William Whitwood. 1670. sm. 4to. B.

Title and Preface, 2 leaves; Text, pp. 1-43. A reply to the two preceeding tracts, in which nonconformity, in the person of Ralph Wallis, is held up to ridicule.

1681. A Sermon Preached before the Judges, &c. In the time of the Assizes in the Cathedral Church at Gloucester, On Sunday Aug. 7, 1681. Published to put a stop to False and Injurious Representations.

By Edward Fowler, D.D. London, Printed for R. Royston, Bookseller to His most Sacred Majesty, and Walter Kettilby, 1681. sm. 4to. C.H.D.

Title, one leaf; Preface and Erratum, 3 leaves; Sermon, pp. 1-32.

The preface relates that "There lately stood in the West-window of the Quire of Gloucester Cathedral, a most scandalous Picture, viz. Of the Blessed Trinity," and that the Chapter having been advised by an eminent prelate that they were "bound in Conscience not to suffer such a thing," Dr Fowler destroyed it with his own hand, on Midsummer Eve, 1679, "in the presence of the greater number of the Chapter." The censures which he justly incurred for this act of Vandalism were the "False and Injurious Representations" referred to in the Title. In his defence he maintains that he was merely "Destroying of an Idol that even Moderate Papists have condemned and some of the better sort of Heathens."

1681. —— The Second Edition. London . . . 1681. F.A.H.

A reprint of the first edition.

"This address was presented to His Majesty on Friday the sixth of this instant May."

1683. A Discourse of Offences. Delivered in Two Sermons Aug. 19 and Sept. 2, 1683. In the Cathedral Church of Gloucester. Published by reason of the Hainous Offence that was taken at the former of these Sermons, by some of that City. By Edward Fowler, D.D. . . . 1 Cor. 10. 32 . . . S. Mark 8. 38. London, 1683. sm. 4to. C.H.D.

Title, one leaf; Epistle Dedicatory, 2 leaves; Two Sermons, pp. 1-31. In consequence of the first of these sermons, the Common-Council of Gloucester made an Order on Aug. 20, 1683, in which they charged Dr Fowler with countenancing Sedition and Faction, and with having preached that which tended to the disturbance of the well affected men in the City. None of the members of the Council would attend the Cathedral "with the Sword in their Formalities" when Dr Fowler preached.

—— Reflections upon That Act of the Gloucester Common-Council: Which occasioned Dr Fowler's Printing his Discourse of Offences. Together with a Short Reply to the Late Scandalous Queries offered to the Reverend Dean of Canterbury. London, Printed for Henry Mortlock at the Phœnix in St. Paul's Church yard. 1683. sm. 4to. [Another Edition, entitled] The Metrical Chronicle of Robert of Gloucester. Edited by William Aldis Wright M.A. . . . London 1887. 2 vols. 8vo.

One of the Public Record Series. This edition does not contain the verses on the foundation of St. Peter's Abbey. There are many references to Gloucester in this Chronicle that show a knowledge of local traditions, dialect and geography. Robert of Gloucester has been supposed to be a monk of St. Peter's Abbey, Gloucester. See his account of Henry III.'s reconciliation with Sir Hubert de Burgh at Gloucester, A.D. 1234 (lines 10822-10831); the violent proceedings of Sir Maci de Besile, Sheriff of Gloucester, 11060-11061; & of Sir John Gifford of Brimpsfield. The Chronicler was evidently an eyewitness of much that he describes.

A portion of the Chronicle was reprinted in The Church Historians of England [London, 1858], vol. v., pp. 352-381, and in Monumenta Germanica Historica Scriptorum [Hanover, 1888], vol. xxviii., pp. 663-669.

Pp. 4. These Reasons appear to have been submitted on the part of the Inhabitants of Maisemore, who claimed that they ought to be exempted from tolls under the Bill, and contended (1) that the whole cost of rebuilding the bridge ought to be defrayed by the County, (2) that there was a special endowment for the maintenance of Westgate Bridge and Over's Causeway, and (3) that it was the duty of the Corporation to pave the streets of Gloucester under the Charter of Charles II. In the answer to the Reasons it is stated that the Inhabitants of Maisemore had been fined £200 for not repairing the bridge in 1709. It seems that until about 1709, the Maisemore bridge had been a wooden one for horse and foot passengers only.

By T. Bonnor, Engraver. London: Published for the Author, and sold by J. Cary, No. 181, Strand. Price Five Shillings complete. Where may be likewise had by the same Artist, Price 10s. 6d. a South-West View of Gloucester Cathedral, 18 Inches by 13, which, with this Number, exhibits all the interesting Parts of this stately edifice, inside and out. demy 8vo. C.H.D.

Title (as above), Glocester Cathedral Ichnography, Introduction, and Dedication to the Gloucestershire Society in London (dated 13th May, 1796), pp. 1-10; Glocester Cathedral (short historical notice and description of the 10 plates), pp. 11-20.

This description was printed in the form of a pamphlet to accompany the Ten Views which were supplied in a case measuring 8 × 5¾ in. The plates which are all dated May 13, 1796, are beautiful line engravings executed with much delicacy. They are of different sizes, varying from 6 × 4 in. to 3 × 2 in., and in this edition were printed on loose sheets of paper also of different sizes. On the case containing the views there was the following advertisement.

"Copper Plate Perspective Itinerary, By T. Bonnor, Engraver. Price Five Shillings, to be Continued Quarterly; Each Number to consist of Ten Perspective Views of Castles, Abbeys, Cathedrals, Palaces, Mansions, Ruins &c . . . No. I., which is published, Contains Ten Views, the principal Beauties of Gloucester Cathedral, its Ground Plan, Measurements, History, Description of present State, History of the College School, &c.

No. II. will Contain Ten Views of Goodrich Castle . . .

No. III. will contain Ten Views of the Vicinity of Cheltenham . . .

London. Published as the Act directs May 13th 1796 . . . "

Inside the case was a fuller prospectus of the work, on a small single sheet, headed "Address."

The Second Number, which comprised eleven views of Goodrich Castle, was published in 1798, price 7s. 6d. In this number the plates were all printed on paper of the same size (8 in. × 5¾ in.) loosely stitched together and placed inside a paper wrapper containing descriptive letter-press (pp. 37) and list of Subscribers, (pp. 39-46).

After the appearance of No. II. an Appendix to No. I. was issued, price 2s. 6d., which consisted of a folding plate (measuring about 10 in. × 7 in.) and was headed Pl. XI. and Pl. XII. It comprised seven views of the exterior of Gloucester Cathedral, viz:—(1) The Pinacles and Embattlements, (2) The Builder's Bracket, (3) The S.W. Extremity, (4) The S. Porch, (5) The flying Buttresses, (6) King Osrick, and (7) Bearings from Glouc: Coll: Tower.

According to an advertisement on the wrapper of No. II. this Appendix also comprised some pages of descriptive letter-press, but no copy of the first edition of the Appendix with any letter-press has been seen. A single sheet containing an announcement that H.M. Queen Charlotte had become a Subscriber to the Perspective Itinerary has been seen. It is dated Sept. 28, 1799, and was probably issued with the Appendix.

After the publication of the Appendix Bonnor seems to have discontinued the work for some years, and when he resumed it he changed the plan which he had originally announced.

He abandoned his intention of issuing No. III., which was to have comprised views of Cheltenham and its vicinity, and he re-issued Nos. I. & II. with this Appendix, in book form, as four numbers, price 5s. each. In these all of the plates were printed on the same sized paper. His revised plan was announced on the wrappers of Nos. III. & IV. of the re-issue, where it was stated that Nos. V. & VI. (price 7s. 6d. each) would contain engravings of the Remains of Antiquity in the City of Gloucester, and Nos. VII. & VIII. Views of Frogmore. None of these numbers ever appeared.

The title of No. I. of the re-issue was as follows:—

Illustration of the Engraved Subjects which compose the First Number of The Copper-Plate Itinerary; consisting of Six Views, the Interior of Gloucester Cathedral. Inscribed . . . [to Dean Tucker in the same words as in the first edition]. The Subjects are . . . [those numbered 1, 2, 5, 8, 7 and 10 in the first edition] By T. Bonnor, Engraver.

With a History, and detailed Description of each Part; a curious Description of the classical Arrangements of the College School, and ingenious Incitements to Emulation and Study. Taken from a Manuscript Dialogue in the School Library; supposed to be written by Mr. Wheeler, the celebrated Master in the seventeenth Century, under whose Instructions they were brought forward. And To accommodate Foreign Antiquaries, &c. a concise general Description is added, in French. London: Published for the Author, and sold by J. Cary, No. 181, Strand. Price Five Shillings each Number. No. II., together with this, includes the whole of the Plates, Illustrations, &c. relative to Gloucester Cathedral, inside and out; Panoramic Description of the Country, as seen from the College Tower, &c. Printed by Joyce Gold, Shoe-lane, Fleet-street. 8vo.

The Title to No. II. of the re issue was as follows:—

Illustration of the Engraved Subjects which compose the Second Number of the Copper-Plate Itinerary; consisting of Four Views, the Interior, and Six Perspectives, the Exterior, of Gloucester Cathedral. Inscribed . . . [to Dean Tucker in the same words as on title to No. I.] The Subjects of the Second Number are . . . [the Views numbered 3, 4, 6 & 9 in the first edition and the folding plate of the exterior issued as an Appendix] By T. Bonnor, Engraver. With a full Description of all the Subjects in the Folding Print, and a Descriptive Panorama Of the particular Objects, and extensive, rich, and finely varied Country, seen from Gloucester College Tower; Which renders it useful, as a Guide, To those who ascend to its Summit. Likewise, A Concise Description in English, from which the French in No. I. was translated. London: Pr. by J. Gold: Shoe-lane; and Pub. for the Proprietor T. Bonnor, By J. Cary, No. 181, Strand. This No., with No. I. completes and terminates Gloucester Cathedral.

The collation of Nos. I.-IV. of the re-issue, when bound, is as follows:— Titles to Nos. I. & II., Gloucester Cathedral Ichnography and Notice that the Queen has subscribed to the Work, 4 leaves; Dedication to the Gloucestershire Society and Introduction, pp. 7-11; Gloucester Cathedral (Historical Note on, with description of plates, numbered and arranged as in first edition), pp. 14-20; Itinéraire Perspective de Bonnor, pp. 21-24; The Exterior of Gloucester Cathedral, pp. 29-32; A Descriptive Panorama, pp. 33-38; Bonnor's Perspective Itinerary (A brief description of plates, in Nos. I. & II. from which the French description was translated), pp. 39-42; Titles to Nos. III. & IV., Notice that the Queen is a Subscriber to the Work, and Dedication of Nos. III. & IV. to the Marquis of Bath, 4 leaves; Descriptive letter-press relating to Goodrich Castle and plates in Nos. III. & IV., pp. 5-37; The Queen's name as a Subscriber, one leaf; List of Subscribers, pp. 39-46; Bonnor's Perspective Itinerary, a brief description of the plates in Nos. III. & IV. from which the French description is translated, pp. 47-50; Description of Plate XIII., pp. I-IV.; Itinéraire Perspective de Bonnor, pp. 1-4. Eleven plates are interspersed with the letter-press of Nos. I. & II. and thirteen with that of Nos. III. & IV. The Plates in Nos. I. & II., numbered 2, 7, 8, 10, are dated May 13, 1807; No. 11 is dated Dec. 1, 1806 and Nos. 3, 4, 5 and 6 are dated May 13, 1796. Most of the plates in Nos. III. & IV. are dated Dec. 29, 1806. Probably this edition was issued about 1807, but Lowndes gives the date as 1815. It is stated on one of the wrappers that a few proof impressions of the prints in Nos. I.-IV. on 4to. paper were to be had, price 7s. 6d. each Number, or on India paper, price 15s. each number.

1819. An Original History of the City of Gloucester, almost wholly compiled from New Materials; supplying the numerous deficiencies, and correcting the errors, of Preceding Accounts; including also The Original Papers of the late Ralph Bigland, Esq. Garter Principal King at Arms. By the Rev. Thomas Dudley Fosbrooke, M.A. F.A.S. Author of the History of the County, British Monachism, &c. &c. [Vignette of Bp. Aldred's Monument.] London: Printed by and for John Nichols and Son, Red-Lion-Passage, Fleet-Street . . . Sold also by Mr Hough, and Messrs Washbourne and Son, Gloucester. 1819. Demy Fol. F.A.H.

Engraved title [Osrick's Monument], Title as above, Dedication to Robert Bransby Cooper and Edward Webb, Esqrs., 3 leaves; Preface, Memoranda, Contents and List of Plates, pp. v.-viii.; History, pp. 1-234 [B—3O]; Index, pp. 234-236.

In this work large use was made by Fosbrooke of notes which had been prepared by Bigland for the unpublished portion of his "Historical, Monumental and Genealogical Collections relative to the County of Gloucester," indeed Fosbrooke's History may be considered as a continuation, in an altered form, of Bigland's History, with the second volume of which it is often bound. Of the 37 illustrations which it contains, all except 8 (those numbered 3, 8, 9, 10, 11, 17, 26, & 27 in the list on p. viii.) had been engraved for Bigland's work. A list of these 29 plates will be found under the notice of Bigland's History. See ante, p. 42.

—— Judgment pronounced by Vice Chancellor Wigram, On Saturday, 4th Nov. 1843, in the case of the Corporation of Gloucester, versus Sir Mathew Wood, Bart. M.P. and others. From the Short Hand Notes of Mr Snell. Gloucester: J. E. Lea, Westgate St. 1844. 8vo. F.A.H.

Pp. 39 including title on cover. In this case the Corporation of Gloucester claimed £200,000 out of the estate of James Wood deceased. The testator had, in a codicil to his Will which had been proved, made a bequest in the following words:—"In a codicil to my will I gave to the Corporation of Gloucester, £140,000. In this, I wish my executors would give £60,000 more to them for the same purpose as I have before named." The codicil referred to, by which the £140,000 had been bequeathed, was not forthcoming. The Court held that the Corporation was not entitled to either legacy.

It is said that the litigation in connection with this claim cost the City of Gloucester more than £7000.

—— Trye v. The Corporation of Gloucester. Beavan's Reports, vol. xiv., pp. 173-196.

This case arose out of a bequest by Colonel Ollney of £8000 to the Corporation of Gloucester, for the erection and endowment of a hospital or almshouse for the City of Gloucester, provided that land should be given for the purpose within 10 years of the date of his decease. His will also contained similar bequests to the Corporations of Cheltenham and Tewkesbury and to the Churchwardens of Winchcombe. The lands were duly provided, but the Court held that all the bequests were void under the Statute of Mortmain. [This case has been overruled by Philpotts v. St George's Hospital, 6 H. L. Ca., p. 338]

Printed for the Camden Society. 1875. sm. 4to. The Camden Miscellany, vol. vii., pp. i.-xxxvi. & 1-29. C.U.L.

Pp. 14-29 comprise a "Sermon of the Child Bishop, prownsyd by John Stubs, Querester, on Childermas Day, at Gloceter, 1558."

This Sermon is here printed for the first time from the Cottonian MS. [Brit. Mus. Vesp. A. xxv., 173-9] It was written by Richard Ramsay who was Rector of Shenington in 1555 and was deprived in 1559. The Editor, Mr. E. F. Rimbault, says that nothing is known of John Stubs, by whom the Sermon was read. The text on which the sermon was preached was "Except yow will be convertyd, and made lyke unto lytill children, yow shall not entre in to the Kyngdom of heaven".

In the Introduction (pp. v.-xxxii.) there is much interesting information respecting the curious custom of electing "Episcopus Puorum" by the Choristers from among themselves at the festival of St. Nicholas.

THE CITIZEN. Published daily at 2 p.m. Price ½d. Printed by the Proprietors, Messrs Chance and Bland, St John's Lane, Gloucester. In progress.

Pp. 4. Size, 24½ × 17 in. Established 1876. It was enlarged in 1877, 1879, 1890 and 1892, and is now about double its original size. It is an organ of the Liberal party, and has a wide circulation in the county.

THE GLOCESTER HERALD. Printed and Published, for the Proprietors, by H. Ruff, in St. John's Lane. No. 6. Saturday, November 7, 1801. Price Sixpence. H.Y.J.T.

Pp. 4. Size 21 in. × 14½ in. This paper was the successor of the "Gloucester Gazette." It was printed by G. F. Harris in 1803; by Joseph Harris in 1807; and by J. Wood in 1811. No. 909, which appeared on Saturday, Feb. 27, 1819, was "Printed and Published by J. Roberts, Near the Tolsey, Westgate St. . . . Price Sevenpence. Stamp Duty 4d. Paper & Print 3d." At this time it was 22 in. × 15½ in. in size. Soon afterwards (c. 1820), it was published on a Friday evening (See Roberts' New Guide to the City of Gloucester, p. 97). Roberts was printing it in 1816, and probably continued to do so until its discontinuance in 1827, when it was superseded by the Gloucester Mercury.

THE GLOUCESTER AND CHELTENHAM STANDARD. ☞ The Man who has the Ability to expose Tyrants, and Tyranny of consecrated Abuses, should have the Courage to exert that ability.—Ourselves. Vol. 1.—No. I. Saturday, September 1, 1832. Price Three-Pence.

Another "Gloucester Guardian"—a weekly paper—was started at the end of 1858 and was discontinued about 12 months afterwards. It was edited by S. R. T. Mayer, and John Clarke (author of The Architectural History of Gloucester), and printed by Henry Smart. Price 1½d. No copy has been seen. It is said to have been a Conservative paper.

THE GLOUCESTER JOURNAL. General Advertiser for the City and County and Neighbouring Shires. With which are incorporated the "Gloucester Mercury" and "The Forester." Vol. CLXXII.—No. 9016. (Established by R. Raikes, 1722.) Saturday, June 29, 1895. Price Three Halfpence. In progress.

Pp. 8. Present size, 25 × 20 inches. Printed and Published by Messrs Chance and Bland at the Journal Office, St. John's Lane, Gloucester.

With the exception of the Cirencester Post, and some of the Bristol Papers, this is the oldest Gloucestershire Newspaper, and it is one of the oldest Provincial Newspapers in existence. Its appearance was announced in the following advertisement:—

"March 10, 172½.

At the Printing-Office, Against the Swan-Inn in Gloucester, Will be shortly published, Weekly, a News Paper intitled, The Gloucester Journal, which will contain not only the most authentic Foreign and Domestick News but also the Price of Corn, Goods, &c. at Bear Key in London, and all other Trading Cities and Market Towns 50 Miles round. The Paper will be suitable to all Degrees and Capacities, and will be collected with all the care that Money or Industry is capable of procuring. N.B. At the aforesaid Printing-Office, any Shop-keepers or others may have all Sorts of Bills and Advertisements Printed after the best Fashion; as also their Signs or any other Ornaments very curiously ingraved on Wood, at reasonable Rates."

The first number appeared on April 9, 1722, and was headed as follows:—Number I. Gloucester Journal. With the most material Foreign Advices, And the largest Account of Home News. Monday April 9." It was "Printed by R. Raikes and W. Licey, over-against the Swan-Inn; Where Advertisements are taken in; as also by the men that carry the News."

At the head, after the word "Journal" was a very quaint allegorical woodcut * which was used for the first 104 numbers, to March 30, 1724. On April 6, 1724 a new one (the S. W. Prospect of Gloucester) *, was substituted for it. This was used till No. 160 (April 24, 1725) after which it was discontinued, and the paper merely headed "Gloucester Journal." On Aug. 10, 1742 the letters of the Heading were enlarged and otherwise altered, and so continued till April 8, 1760. On April 15, 1760 (No. 1977) the heading "Gloucester Journal" was placed between a female figure [? Britannia] and the Arms of the City of Gloucester. In 1811 the Figure was discontinued, and the City Arms placed in the centre; and on Oct. 4, 1845 the City Arms were placed between two lions as supporters. The first number measured 12⅜ × 7¾ inches. Its price was not stated. It was enlarged on Aug. 10, 1742 to 16 × 10½ inches. In 1764 it had been further increased in size to 18 × 11 inches, and on Jan. 2, 1792, it was again increased to about 20 × 14 inches. On April 22, 1798 its price was 4d., and the price was stated for the first time. Subsequent changes in size and price took place on the following dates: Price raised to 6d. July 10, 1797. Size, 20 × 14 inches, Jan. 5, 1801. Price raised to 6½d. June 12, 1809. Size 22 × 16 inches, Jan. 3, 1814. Price raised to 7d., Sept. 4, 1815. Size 22 × 16 inches, Jan. 6, 1827; 22½ × 16 inches, Jan. 1, 1831; 23¼ × 16¼, Jan. 3, 1835, and 25¼ × 19½ April 11, 1835. On Sept. 17, 1836, the price reduced to 5d. Size, 27½ × 21¼ inches, Oct. 4, 1845; 28¼ × 22 inches, Jan. 2, 1847; and 27½ × 21¼ inches Jan. 4, 1851. On June 30, 1855 price reduced to 5d. stamped and 4d. unstamped, and on Oct. 5, 1861

* Facsimiles of both these head-pieces are given in the l.p. copies of this work. See Pls. III. & IV.

to 4d. stamped and 3d. unstamped. On Oct. 26, 1861, the paper measured 24 × 18 inches. On Jan. 4, 1879, its size was increased to 25 × 21 inches, and on Jan. 3, 1885, its price was reduced to 1½d., at which figure it still stands.

The Advertisement of March 10, 172¼ and early numbers of this paper are in the possession of Mr Phelps, of Chestal.

This Journal was established by Robert Raikes the elder, and he edited it from 1722 to his death in 1757. His son Robert succeeded him as Editor and Proprietor, and so continued until he sold it 1802 to David Walker, of the Hereford Journal. During the period that it was in the possession of the Raikes family it was printed at their house in Southgate St., which had previously been the residence of Judge Powell, and is now a Grocer's Shop, in the occupation of Messrs Sterry and Morris.

In September, 1802, David Walker removed the printing offices to the premises in Westgate St., in which the paper was until recently printed. It continued in the possession of the Walker family for two generations, being printed successively by D. Walker alone till April, 1816, by D. Walker and Sons from 1816 to 1831, by Alexander and David Mowbray Walker from 1831 to 1838, and by David Mowbray Walker from 1838 to 1871. On the death of Mr D. M. Walker it passed into the hands of Mr Thomas Henry Chance, who was sole proprietor and editor till 1881, when he took into partnership Mr Samuel Bland. The paper is now (1893) owned by Mr T. H. Chance, Mr S. Bland and Mr Harry Godwin Chance (Mr T. H. Chance's son) who was taken into partnership in 1891.

It was originally a Whig paper, and is now the leading organ of the Radical party in the county.

THE GLOUCESTER MERCURY.

No copy of this paper has been seen. It was established by Mr Blewitt, and published by Charles Hough, of College Court, c. 1827. It was discontinued in 1829, when Mr Blewitt, the proprietor, established the Monmouthshire Merlin. This "Mercury" was a Tory paper, and some of its articles are said to have possessed much literary merit.

It was advertised in the "New Guide to the City of Gloucester" (published by J. E. Lea, c. 1828), p. 97.

GLOUCESTER MERCURY. Printed and Published by the Proprietor Charles Jeynes, residing in Westgate Street in the Parish of St. Mary-de-Grace, in the City of Gloucester. Vol. iv., No. 171. Saturday October 2nd, 1858. "Be Just and Fear Not." Increased from one penny to form a fund for the erecting of a Monument to the memory of Bishop Hooper. 1½d. H.Y.J.T.

Pp. 4. 22 × 17 inches. Established about June, 1856. It was purchased by the proprietors of the Gloucester Journal, and was discontinued in 1884. It was a Liberal paper.

An evening paper called "The Mercury" was published by Charles Jeynes in March 1881. It did not exist for more than a fortnight.

THE GLOUCESTER STANDARD, and Gloucestershire News. Published weekly. Sat. Price 1d. Printed by the Proprietor, J. Buchanan, Commercial Road, Gloucester. In Progress.

Pp. 8. Size 23 × 17 inches. Price 1½d. till Feb. 14, 1885. A Conservative paper. It was started by Mr Buchanan in 1870, and it has been owned and edited by him ever since.

THE GLOUCESTERSHIRE CHRONICLE. Published weekly (Sat.) at 6 a.m. Price 1½d. Printed and edited by F. G. Carrington, of the firm of Carrington and Co., Proprietors, at 91 Southgate St., Gloucester. In progress.

Pp. 8. Size 24 × 18½ inches. No. I. appeared on July 6, 1833. It was started by Mr John Kemp and Mr Thomas Washbourn as the organ of the Tory party. At this time it was printed in Greyfriars. In a few years it became the property of Mr C. F. Cliffe, who appointed his brother, Mr J. H. Cliffe, the editor. In 1852 the offices were removed to 91 Southgate St. From 1856 to 1864 it was edited by Mr F. G. Carrington, and on his death in that year, Mr J. H. Billett became editor and Mr J. West, manager, and the paper was conducted by them (assisted by Mr W. R. West during a portion of the time) till 1891. In 1892 the editorship passed into the hands of Mr F. G. Carrington jun. The original price of the paper was 7d., which was reduced in 1861 to 3d., and in 1885 to 1½d.

WORKS RELATING TO THE CITY OF GLOUCESTER

PART III. — ACTS OF PARLIAMENT

[The chapters of Public and of Private Acts are given in Arabic, and of Local & Personal Acts in Roman numerals. Private Acts are distinguished from Public Acts by the addition of Priv. after the chapter.]

6 Edw. I. caps 1-15. Statutes made at Gloucester, 4 Octobris, Anno 6 Edw. I. and Anno Dom. 1278.—An Exposition of the said Statute of Gloucester, made also Anno 6. Edwardi I. "Given at Gloucester the Sunday next after the Feast of Saint Peter ad vincula, the sixth year of the reign of King Edward the First."

30 Edw. I. A new Statute Quo Warranto, made at Gloucester, Anno 30 Edw. I. and A.D. 1301.

These statutes contain no local enactments, but the fact of their having been passed by a Parliament assembled at Gloucester, is an interesting event in the history of that City. They effected a not unimportant alteration in Real Property Law. They are mentioned because they are generally known as "The Statutes of Gloucester."

27 Hen. VIII. c. 1. An Act for the re-edifying of the Towns of Nottingham, Gloucester, Northampton, and other Towns.

33 Henry VIII. c. 35. An Act concerning the Conduits of Gloucester.

This Act empowered the Mayor and Dean of Gloucester to break ground in "Matstone's Hill, otherwise Robin Hood's Hill" for the conveyance of water to the City and minster.

8 Eliz. c. 2. Priv. An Act confirming Letters Patent for the Hospital of St Bartholomew in Gloucester.

1644. May 10. An Ordinance for raising and maintaining of Horse and Foot, for the Garrison of Glocester, and for the Counties of Glocester, Monmouth &c.

—— Oct. 2. An Ordinance for a Weekly Assessment . . . See ante, p. 7.

1644. Mar. 13. An Ordinance for the continuance of a Weekly Assessment . . . See ante, p. 7.

1645. May 6. An Ordinance for . . . maintaining Horse and Foot for the Garison of Glocester . . .

1648. April 3. An Ordinance for uniting certain Churches, and for maintenance of Preaching Ministers in the City of Gloucester.

13 & 14 Car. II. c. 12. Priv. An Act for Disuniting of the Hundreds of Dudston and Kings Barton from the County of the City of Gloucester, and restoring them to be Part of the County of Gloucester.

1 W. & M. Sess. I. c. 18. Priv. An Act for erecting Courts of Conscience in the Cities of Bristol and Gloucester and the Liberties thereof.

1 Anne. Sess. 1. Stat. 2. c. 11. Priv. An Act for the incorporating certain persons, for the better providing for, and setting at Work the Poor in the City of Gloucester.

12 Anne. Sess. 2. c. 6. An Act for taking away Mortuaries within the Dioceses of Bangor . . . and for confirming several Letters Patents granted by her Majesty for perpetually annexing a Prebend of Gloucester to the Mastership of Pembroke College in Oxford . . .

13 Geo. I. c. 19. An Act for Repealing Part, & making more effectual the Residue . . . of An Act [1 Anne. Sess. I., Stat. II. c. 11. Priv.] for the Incorporating certain Persons, for the better providing for, & setting at work, the Poor in the City of Gloucester.

A Bill for the object effected by this Act was introduced in 11 Geo. I. but not passed.

14 Geo. II. c. 11. An Act for supplying the City of Gloucester with Water.

23 Geo. II. c. 15. An Act for the taking down several Buildings, and inlarging the Streets and Market Places in the City of Gloucester.

The houses to be taken down are specified in the Schedule.

4 Geo. III. c. 60. An Act for the more effectual Relief and Employment of the Poor, within the City of Gloucester, and for lighting the Streets of the said City.

17 Geo. III. c. 68. An Act for rebuilding the Bridge over the River Severn, at Maisemore, near the City of Gloucester; for raising, widening, and securing Over's Causeway, leading from the Said City towards Maisemore aforesaid; and for enforcing the proper paving and cleansing of the several Streets within the said City, and for removing nuisances and annoyances therefrom, and preventing the like for the future.

21 Geo. III. c. 74. An Act for erecting a new Gaol, and for removing certain Gateways, in the City of Gloucester; and for amending the several Acts passed for the Maintenance and Support of the Poor of the said City, and Lighting, Paving, and Regulating the streets there.

25 Geo. III. c. 10. An Act . . . [for building a new Gaol.] See ante, p. 208.

31 Geo. III. c. 89. An Act . . . [for making a canal from Hereford to Gloucester.] See ante, p. 209.

By this Act 1 & 2 Geo. IV. cap. xxii. ss. 16-61, 30, 31, 49, 50, and 53-56 are repealed and other Local Acts are amended.

35 & 36 Vict. cap. v. An Act to extend the powers of the Gloucester Gaslight Company . . .

37 & 38 Vict. cap. cxi. An Act for extending the limits of the City and County of the City of Gloucester; and for empowering the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of the City to improve the City Quay and Cattle Market.

41 & 42 Vict. cap. ccxxxi. An Act to confirm with amendments, certain Provisional Orders made by the Board of Trade under the Tramways Act, 1870, relating to . . . Gloucester Tramways . . .

The construction of tramways in the streets of Gloucester was authorized by this Act.

45 & 46 Vict. c. 68. An Act to suspend for a limited period, on account of Corrupt Practices, the holding of an Election of a Member or Members to serve in Parliament for certain cities and boroughs.

Gloucester was disfranchised until 1883 by this Act.

47 & 48 Vict. cap. lxxxii. An Act to confirm certain Orders of the Local Government Board . . . [for the alteration of the boundaries of certain parishes and townships within or adjacent to the City of Gloucester]. See ante, p. 233.

53 & 54 Vict. cap. xcvii. An Act to confirm certain Provisional Orders made by the Board of Trade . . .

By this Act a Harbour Authority was established for the Maintenance Regulation and Lighting of a Harbour in the Estuary of the Severn.

57 & 58 Vict. cap. xci. An Act to empower the Corporation of Gloucester to construct additional water works, to consolidate the parishes within the city, and to make better provision for the health, local government, and improvement of the city and for other purposes.

The additional water works authorised were to be in the parishes of Oxenhall and Newent. The 14 parishes and 4 hamlets which were comprised within the City, were by this Act constituted, for civil purposes, the parish of Gloucester. The County Lunatic Asylum was however contingently exempted from the operation of the Act.
